RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE JAIL DEPARTMENT IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1915.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

JAILS.

DARJEELING, THE 5TH JUNE 1916.

RESOLUTION—No. 855P.—D.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1915.

ALSO—

The Reports for the years 1914 and 1913 and the Resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

THERE was a marked increase in the number of prisoners confined in the jails of Bengal during the year, the number of admissions being 81,801 as compared with 69,204 in 1914, and the average daily population 14,473 against 12,496 in the previous year. Nearly all the jails were in consequence seriously overcrowded at various times. Arrangements have been made for the erection of temporary wards in some of the jails. The increase in the jail population is probably due, at any rate in part, to special causes which will cease to operate when normal conditions are restored. It is clear, however, that additional jail accommodation is required and will have to be provided when funds are available.

2. The overcrowding of the jails considerably increased the labours and responsibilities of the jail staff in maintaining discipline. A serious outbreak occurred in the Patuakhali sub-jail in June, when 42 undertrial prisoners overpowered the jail staff and forced their way out. All except two were recaptured. Apart from this incident, and a few others of a similar nature but of less importance, the discipline maintained was, on the whole, very satisfactory and reflects great credit on the warder staff. There was some increase in the total number of jail offences, but the ratio of total punishments to the daily average jail population was less than in 1914. The penalty of whipping was inflicted in 48 cases as compared with 60 in the previous year.

3. The daily average number of prisoners in hospital was 765 as compared with 582 in the previous year. but the death-rate was only 20·6 per mille, or 1 per mille less than in 1914. The Governor in Council is glad to notice the marked improvement in the health of the jails at Barisal, Jessore. Rangpur and Jalpaiguri, and to learn that it is attributed to the skill and care of the medical officers in charge. There was a serious outbreak of dysentery at Midnapore, and the Governor in Council hopes that the measures taken by the Inspector-General will remedy matters. Dinajpur is still the most unhealthy jail in the province. Funds have been provided for the erection of a new hospital, which, it is hoped, will be completed before the end of the year with marked benefit to the health of the prisoners. The area from which this jail draws its population is notoriously unhealthy, and it is reported that a large proportion of the prisoners who died during the year were admitted direct to hospital on conviction or very soon after their arrival. The difficulty of coping with the outbreaks of disease, both at Midnapore and at Dinajpur, seems to have been aggravated by the inexperience of the jail staff, and the absence of the experienced jail Superintendents. who have been temporarily recalled to military duty. has been much felt in this and in other respects.

4. The Juvenile Jail at Alipore continues to do good work, and the Governor in Council is glad to see that the Inspector-General contemplates the formation of a representative committee, including employers of labour, both Indian and European, whose special function it will be to provide work for the boys on release and to keep a friendly eye on them. There is ample scope for philanthropic work of this kind, and His Excellency in Council trusts that Colonel Buchanan's efforts will be crowned with success. Babu Mohini Mohan Chatterji has continued to give moral instruction to Hindu boys in the jail, and the Governor in Council hopes that other gentlemen will come forward to give similar assistance. The Inspector-General would welcome more help of this kind. The manufacture of quinine tablets at this jail has developed in a remarkable manner, the number of "treatments" or tubes sold having increased from 300,000 in 1913 to 1,400,000 in 1915.

5. The industrial record of the other jails is satisfactory. The net earnings for the year amounted to nearly Rs. 5¼ lakhs as compared with Rs. 4,84,000 in the previous year. The outturn of gunny cloth at the Presidency Jail was nearly double that of the previous year. About four-fifths of the cloth was taken by the Military Department, which has also given the new woollen factory at the Dacca Central Jail a good start with a contract for 10,000 blankets.

6. In spite of careful and economical arrangements for the purchase of food-grains for the jail population, the cost of diet has increased from Rs. 45 to Rs. 47-7 per head. There was a slight fall in the average price at which rice was purchased, but all other food-grains were dearer than in the previous year. The report shows that the improved dietary recommended by Major McCay, involving the partial substitution of wheat for rice, is gradually growing in favour both with the prisoners and also with the subordinate medical staff, who have begun to appreciate its dietetic superiority to the all-rice diet to which most of the prisoners are accustomed in their own homes.

7. Colonel Buchanan has again called attention to the difficulty of recruiting and retaining men for the warder staff, on account of the poor prospects open to them. The proposals of the Government of Bengal for the reorganisation of the subordinate jail staff of the Presidency are now under the consideration of the Secretary of State, and the Governor in Council hopes that a final decision will not be long delayed. His Excellency in Council has much pleasure in acknowledging the loyalty and devotion to duty of the jail staff in circumstances of unusual stress and overwork, due to the crowded state of most of the jails during the greater part of the year. The special thanks of Government are due to Lieutenant-Colonel Buchanan for the unfailing and cheerful energy and resource with which he met and overcame difficulties, aggravated as they were by the inexperience of the superior staff in many of the jails. The names of the officers who are commended by the Inspector-General for good work have been noted. The late Mr. G. A. Evans, I.C.S., displayed remarkable initiative and business capacity as Superintendent of the Dacca Central Jail, and the Governor in Council much regrets the premature death of this promising young officer.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Prisons, Bengal, for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution and a copy of the Report be submitted to the Government of India, in the Home Department.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN AND OF THE GARDENS IN CALCUTTA AND OF THE LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING, FOR 1915-16.

ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN.

1. General.—Owing to the prolongation of the rains into November 1915 and the abnormally high temperature during part of that month the germination of cold weather annual seeds and the growth of the seedlings were detrimentally affected. The display of orchids instead of—as in ordinary years—being confined to a great flush of bloom for about three weeks in March was spread over from December until the end of March, with a smaller number of orchids in flower at one time.

Work on the formation of the Economic Garden referred to in last year's report appreciably advanced during the year, the area set aside in the north-west corner of the garden having now been cleared of all superfluous trees and shrubs, ploughed and cleaned so as to be ready for laying out during the coming year.

The small lake near Roxburgh's monument in this part of the garden has been connected by underground pipes with the King Lake, so as to bring it into the chain of water circulation of the garden lakes and to afford a constant supply of water for the Economic Garden. A considerable section of the river bank has been revetted and properly sloped off with several hundred thousand cubic feet of soil.

About 700 feet length of the Roxburgh Avenue to the west of the landing stage has been renewed and several lakhs of bricks made to continue the work of road renewals. The ghât opposite the Garden Curator's quarters, which is used for shipping stores and plants, has been rebuilt, the iron steps formerly at the present landing stage site being utilised for the purpose.

A considerable number of young trees and shrubs were planted out during the year in their appropriate geographical regions, most of them being species hitherto unrepresented in the garden. The garden generally was kept in reasonably good condition throughout the year, and the scenic effect enhanced where possible, although owing to the perverse way in which rare or valuable trees—that it is undesirable to remove—so often block the way, scenic developments are by no means easy. However, a new vista—Venusta Vista—the longest in the garden, was opened out, stretching from a little to the north-west of the Superintendent's quarters, northwards by a little eastwards right across to the northern boundary of the garden.

The usual class in arboriculture was held by the Curator, who has also advised the Corporation of Calcutta in the matter of planting trees in the Calcutta streets.

2. Plant and Seed Exchange and Economic work.—Over 40,000 plants, mostly trees, were distributed, chiefly for roadside planting. Nearly 1,000 packets of seed were distributed, including about 120 lbs. of various trees for the arboricultural adornment of the New Delhi. About 300 packets of seed were received from all quarters of the globe. Attention was given to the experimental cultivation of plants of medicinal importance, such as Hyoscyamus niger, Atropa Belladona and Digitalis purpurea. The first was cultivated successfully in the Botanic Garden, the leaves collected and dried and sent for extraction of the active principle partly to a firm of chemists in Calcutta, partly to the Government Quinologist at Mungpoo. Atropa Belladona and Digitalis purpurea were tried on the Cinchona Plantation at Mungpoo. Belladona has not been successful, the rainfall being probably too much for it, but Digitalis grew luxuriantly. This work can be readily extended, if demand continues for the products. Other species, the cultivation of which is being taken up, include Podophyllum Emodi received from the Forest Department, Guaiacum, Strychnos, etc. Caffeine has been successfully extracted from tea prunings by the Government Quinologist at Mungpoo. The cultivation of Ipecacuanha on the Cinchona Plantation has made great progress during the year, over 30,000 plants having been planted out, bringing the total stock up to about 48,000 plants. At the present rate, in a few years it will be possible to start the manufacture of Emetine on a commercial scale.

3. Herbarium and Library.—This work has proceeded on usual lines throughout the year. About 7,000 specimens have been added to the Herbarium, representing collections presented by officers of the Forest Department, the Botanical Survey, officers in other departments, private individuals and British and American botanical gardens, and illustrating the vegetation of practically all quarters of India and Burma, the Malayan Peninsula, Australia and America. A large number of duplicates for distribution is being held back in face of present conditions abroad.

Over 200 books and reports were added to the Library during the year.

4. Publications.—No purely garden publications were issued during the year.

5. Financial.—The revenue amounted to Rs. 437-5. The Budget allotment was all expended, except Rs. 1,088-1-8 composed of savings under establishment and regular contingencies.

CALCUTTA GARDENS.

Work in these gardens was mostly of a routine character and does not call for special remarks. It has been attempted to stop the disfigurement. referred to in last year's report, of the grass borders in the Dalhousie Square garden by erecting a low guard railing along the walk parallel with the balustrade surrounding the pond. A scheme for replacing the present insanitary and insufficient accommodation for the labour force of the gardens by properly built lines in the Eden Gardens has been submitted to Government.

* * * * * *

There was a revenue of Rs. 200 from the Dalhousie Square garden and a saving of Rs. 2,124-2 on the total allotment of Rs. 40,872 for all the Calcutta gardens.

LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING.

Routine work was carried out on the usual lines.

The task that has been in hand for some years of freeing the grass lawns and slopes from moss was completed during the year About 160 species of trees and shrubs were planted out during the year. The garden is now much richer in species than it was a few years ago, and is correspondingly more interesting to such visitors as are capable of appreciating its contents from either an arboricultural or a botanical point of view. Mr. G. H. Cave, the Curator, who deserves special credit for the great interest he has shown in improving and enriching the garden, has been engaged for some time in preparing a catalogue of the garden, which it is hoped to publish ere long. Over 9,000 plants, over 4,700 dozens of annual seedlings, over 500 bulbs and tubers and over 1,600 packets of seeds were distributed, while in addition special collections of seeds of Himalayan species from both high and low levels were made.

Over 52,000 visitors to the garden were counted during the year. nearly 16,000 of whom were Europeans.

In the Bankura district the state of affairs in the affected areas is generally unchanged. The condition of people on relief works is generally good. The relief measures are adequate. People are freely resorting to relief-works. Loans are being freely advanced. Scarcity of fodder continues. Private charitable funds are giving relief. The District Charitable Relief Fund distributed cloth. Prices have risen. The price of rice is 8 seers per rupee. The number of persons on relief-works was 22,167, and in receipt of gratuitous relief 24,845—total 47,012. The number of persons relieved on private works was 6,993.

In the Tippera district drought has affected the standing crops. Public health is good. The relief measures are adequate. The price of rice is 7 seers per rupee. The number of persons on test-works was 3,875, and in receipt of gratuitous relief 4,791—total 8,666. Increase in the number of persons on test-works was due to cessation of agricultural employment with the completion of weeding and sowing operations.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 5th June 1916.

Summary.—During the end of the week light-to-moderate rain fell generally throughout the province. The recent rainfall has facilitated further sowings of jute and autumn paddy, especially in the western districts. More rain is needed for the ploughing of fields and for the growth of the standing crops. The weeding of jute fields continues. The prospects of standing crops have somewhat improved by the recent showers. Cattle-disease is reported from four districts only. Scarcity of water continues to be felt in parts of Burdwan and Birbhum. The average price of common rice for the province has remained almost stationary, as compared with that of the previous week.

Otherwise, the whole amount of each allotment certificate will be divided into four instalments as follows :—

Instalment I.—As near as convenient to 20 per cent., but not less than 20 per cent., payable on the 13th July.

Instalment II.—As near as convenient to 25 per cent., but not less than 25 per cent., payable on the 3rd August.

Instalment III.—As near as convenient to 25 per cent., but not less than 25 per cent., payable on the 22nd August.

Instalment IV.—The balance payable on the 7th September.

But the whole or any part of any accepted application may be paid at any time after receipt of the allotment certificate.

The words "as near as convenient" refer to the necessity for making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 100.

11. Payment of any allotment certificate may be made in the head office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or in any branch of these Banks in India or into any Government treasury at district headquarters which may be named in the application in respect of which the allotment certificate was issued. Receipts for such payments will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, or their branches, or by the officers in charge of the Government treasuries at which payment is made, by enfacement upon the relative certificate.

12. When any allotment certificate is fully paid up, the holder will, on presenting it duly receipted at the place where it was paid, obtain from the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, either (a) a stock certificate, or (b) promissory notes of such values as he may desire (each note being in even hundreds and not less than Rs. 100), bearing interest from the 1st October 1916; he will also receive interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum up to the 30th September 1916, commencing from the date of presentation of the application in respect of the deposit made under clause 5, and from the actual dates of payment in respect of subsequent instalments.

Conversion of Securities of the existing 3½ and 3 per cent. rupee loans of the Government of India.

13. The holder of a fully paid up allotment certificate will further receive, on its presentation as above, a negotiable warrant in the form appended to this notification (Annexure 3) specifying the amount paid on the allotment certificate and entitling the holder of the warrant to the privilege of converting 3½ per cent. or 3 per cent. rupee securities of the Government of India into securities of the Four per cent. Conversion Loan of 1916-17 to the extent, and under the conditions, defined below, provided that application for such conversion is made by the holder of the warrant not later than the 16th January 1917.

(1) The amount of securities in the loan of 1916-17 obtained by such conversion may be any exact multiple of Rs. 100 not exceeding the sum specified in the warrant as having been paid on the allotment certificate.

Examples.—(a) A has subscribed Rs. 10,000 to the new loan. He will receive a conversion warrant for Rs. 10,000. This will enable him, if he chooses, to tender for conversion as much 3½ per cent. paper or 3 per cent. paper as [at the rates of conversion specified in sub-clause (2) below] will produce a further Rs. 10,000 in the new loan or any smaller amount.

(b) B, though not himself a subscriber to the new loan, purchases a conversion warrant for Rs. 10,000. He will have the same privileges as A.

(2) The applicant will be entitled to receive securities of the loan of 1916-17 at the rate of Rs. 96 of the loan of 1916-17 for each Rs. 100 of 3½ per cent. securities tendered, and at the rate of Rs. 82-8-0 of the loan 1916-17 for each Rs. 100 of 3 per cent. securities tendered.

Examples.—(a) A possesses 3½ per cent paper of the face value of Rs. 17,600. This, if he possesses sufficient conversion rights, can be converted into Rs. 17,600 × $\frac{96}{100}$ of the new loans, i.e., Rs. 16,896, subject to rounding into even hundreds.

(b) B possesses Rs. 9,300 of 3 per cent. paper. This, if he possesses sufficient conversion rights, can be converted into Rs. 9,300 × $\frac{82\frac{1}{2}}{100}$ of the new loan, i.e., Rs. 7,672-8-0, subject to rounding into even hundreds.

(3) If the amount of securities tendered for conversion in respect of a particular warrant represents, at the foregoing rates of conversion, an amount of securities in the loan of 1916-17 which is not an exact multiple of Rs. 100, the applicant shall also pay in cash the balance required to make up the next higher multiple of Rs. 100.

Examples.—(a) In the case mentioned in example (a) of sub-clause (2) above A will have to pay a further sum of Rs. 4 in cash if he wishes to secure conversion of the whole amount of securities tendered. He will then receive Rs. 16,900 in the new loan, provided that he possesses conversion rights for that or some larger amount.

(b) Similarly, B in example (b) of sub-clause (2) above will have to pay Rs. 27-8-0 in cash and will receive Rs. 7,700 in the new loan provided that he possesses conversion rights for that or some larger amount.

(4) If the amount of securities in the loan of 1916-17 represented by the securities tendered for conversion, together with the cash payment as above, if any, is identical with the sum specified in the warrant, the conversion rights conferred by the warrant will have been exercised to the fullest extent, and no further cash payment will be required or permissible.

Examples.—(a) A holds a conversion warrant for Rs. 10,000. He tenders for conversion Rs. 10,400 of 3½ per cent. paper, representing Rs. 9,984 in the new loan. He will pay Rs. 16 in cash and receive Rs. 10,000 of the new loan, his conversion rights being thus fully exercised.

(b) B holds a conversion warrant for Rs. 10,000. He tenders for conversion Rs. 12,100 of 3 per cent. paper, representing Rs. 9,982-8-0 in the new loan. He will pay Rs. 17-8-0 in cash and receive Rs. 10,000 of the new loan, his conversion rights being thus fully exercised.

(5) If the amount of securities in the loan of 1916-17 represented by the securities tendered for conversion, together with the cash payment as above, if any, is less than the sum specified in the warrant, the applicant has the following options :—

(i) He may refrain from making any further cash payment, in which case he will receive the amount of securities in the loan of 1916-17 which is represented, at the prescribed rates of conversion, by the securities tendered for conversion and the cash payment, if any.

(ii) He may make such further cash payment as will enable him to receive, in securities of the loan of 1916-17, a total amount equal to the face value of the securities tendered for conversion, each Rs. 100 paid in cash being treated for this purpose as entitling the applicant to a further Rs. 100 in the loan of 1916-17.

Examples.—(a) A holds a conversion warrant for Rs. 10,000. He tenders for conversion Rs. 7,000 of 3½ per cent. paper, representing Rs. 6,720 in the new loan. Under sub-clause (3) above, he will in any case pay Rs. 80 in cash, thus becoming entitled to Rs. 6,800 in the new loan. He may then refrain from making any further cash payment. In that case his conversion rights to the extent of Rs. 3,200 will lapse, unless he has previously subdivided his warrant, under clause 14 below, into separate warrants for Rs. 6,800 and Rs. 3,200, in which case he can sell the remaining warrant or otherwise dispose of it.

(b) Or, in the same case, A may pay a further Rs. 200 in cash, thus becoming entitled to receive Rs. 7,000 in the new loan, i.e., paper of the same face value in the new loan as that which he has surrendered. His remaining conversion rights amounting to Rs. 3,000 will lapse, unless conserved by previous subdivision of the warrant.

(c) B holds a conversion warrant for Rs. 8,000. He tenders for conversion Rs. 8,000 of 3 per cent. paper representing Rs. 6,600 in the new loan. He may refrain from making any supplementary cash payment, in which case his remaining conversion rights amounting to Rs. 1,400 will lapse, unless conserved by previous subdivision of the warrant.

(d) Or, in the same case, B may pay a further Rs. 1,400 in cash, thus becoming entitled to receive Rs. 8,000 in the new loan, i.e., paper of the same face value as that which he has surrendered. In this particular instance his conversion rights will then have been fully exercised.

(6) The same warrant may not be used partly for the conversion of securities of a 3½ per cent. rupee loan and partly for the conversion of securities of the 3 per cent. rupee loan.

Example.—A holds a conversion warrant for Rs. 12,000. He possesses Rs. 4,000 of 3½ per cent. paper representing Rs. 3,840 in the new loan, and Rs. 6,000 of 3 per cent. paper representing Rs. 4,950 in the new loan. He may not tender both denominations of paper for conversion under the one warrant. He may, however, subdivide his warrant into three warrants of Rs. 3,900, Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 3,100, respectively, utilising the first two to convert his holdings of paper and conserving his remaining conversion rights (with a view to sale or other mode of disposal) by means of the third warrant. Or, again, if he intends to take advantage of the option defined in sub-clause (5) (ii) above, he may subdivide his original warrant into three warrants of Rs. 4,000, Rs. 6,000 and Rs. 2,000, respectively, using the first two for conversion purposes and selling or otherwise disposing of the third.

(7) The same warrant may not be employed for more than one transaction. But a number of separate warrants may be used collectively, instead of a single warrant for the same aggregate amount.

Examples.—(a) A holds a conversion warrant for Rs. 9,000. He first converts Rs. 3,000 of 3½ per cent. paper. Subsequently he desires to convert a further Rs. 2,000 of 3½ per cent. paper. This cannot be done as, at the time of the first conversion transaction, his first warrant will have been resumed and any remaining conversion rights will have lapsed. His proper course is to proceed by subdivision of the warrant from the outset.

(b) B holds paper which, at the prescribed rate of conversion, represents Rs. 1,92,000 in the new loan. He also holds conversion rights for Rs. 1,50,000. By purchasing another warrant for Rs. 42,000 or several warrants aggregating that amount, and presenting all his warrants, he can secure the conversion of his entire holding.

14. A warrant will, on application by the holder, be subdivided by the Public Debt Office, Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, the Bank of Madras, or the Bank of Bombay, into two or more warrants (each for a sum which is an exact multiple of Rs. 100) entitling him to obtain the same aggregate amount of the new loan by conversion, on payment of a fee of 4 annas in respect of each of the warrants issued in exchange.

NOTE.—The original issue of warrants and also their subdivision will be carried out by the Public Debt Offices, Banks of Madras and Bombay, in cases in which the holder of the loan has asked that interest on his securities should be payable at a treasury in those Presidencies, and by the Public Debt Office, Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, in other cases. Should the holder of a warrant, for the purpose of exercising the rights attached to it, desire to present it at an office other than the office of issue, it must first be enfaced by the office of issue on the office at which it is intended to present it. No charge will be made for such enfacement.

15. The holder of a warrant desiring to exercise any of the rights attaching to it should, either in person or through a duly authorised representative, present, at any time after the 15th October 1916 and not later than the 16th January 1917, the warrant and an application for conversion, duly filled in and signed, as well as the securities which he desires to convert (and also any cash payment authorised under the terms of clause 13 above) at—

(i) The Public Debt Office, Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, the Bank of Madras or the Bank of Bombay;

(ii) A Government treasury at district headquarters for transmission to one of the above; or

(iii) Any branch of the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay.

The securities so presented should be duly receipted on the reverse as follows, or in a form as near thereto as circumstances admit :—

Received in lieu hereof $\frac{\text{a stock certificate}}{\text{promissory note(s)}}$ of the Four per cent. Conversion Loan of 1916-17 payable to ... for Rs. ....

with interest payable at ...

Signature of the holder or duly authorized representative of ...

16. Interest on securities tendered for conversion will be paid in cash up to the 30th September 1916. Securities of the Four per cent. Conversion Loan of 1916-17 issued in exchange will bear interest with effect from the 1st October 1916. No interest will be paid separately in respect of the cash payments made under clause 13 above.

Applications through the Post Office.

17. Applications for the loan will also be received at all post offices authorised to transact Post Office Savings Bank business during the hours fixed for such business from the 14th June to the 25th September from any person, whether previously a depositor in the Post Office Savings Bank or not, subject to the following conditions. Applications made under this clause will be accepted in full irrespective of the limit of Rs. 1,200 lakhs mentioned in clauses 1 and 8.

(1) Applications must be delivered personally or by messenger at a post office, where a receipt will be given for them.

(2) They must be made in the special printed form appended to this notification (Annexure 4), copies of which will be obtainable at the post offices.

(3) Each application must be for not less than Rs. 100 and not more than Rs. 5,000 and must be for a sum which is a multiple of Rs. 100.

NOTE.—The total amount which may be applied for by each applicant is limited to Rs. 5,000 but applications up to this amount will be permitted irrespective of any holdings of securities which the applicant may have previously obtained through the Post Office.

(4) Amounts applied for through the Post Office will not be payable in instalments, but must be deposited in full with the application. Payment in respect of such applications may be made in either of the following ways or partly in each :—

(a) By transfer from any balance in cash standing at the credit of the applicant's savings bank account if he has one.

(b) By a special payment; such payment may be made in coin or currency notes, or—at head post offices or at sub-post offices in Presidency Towns—by a cheque on a recognised bank.

18. (a) An applicant for the loan through the Post Office will receive a negotiable conversion warrant together with forms of application for conversion attached, enabling him to exercise the rights specified in clause 13 above.

Any securities in the 3½ per cent. or 3 per cent. rupee loans held by the Accountant-General, Posts and Telegraphs, on the applicant's behalf, or purchased by him through the Post Office and held in his own custody, will be converted up to the limit admissible; on his presenting at any post office authorised to transact Savings Bank business, at any time after the 15th October 1916 and not later than the 16th January 1917, the warrant and the form of application (duly filled up), together with (a) the securities in his own custody, if any, endorsed to the Accountant-General, Posts and Telegraphs, and (b) the cash payment (if any) required by clause 13.

(b) A conversion warrant issued through the Post Office may be subdivided on application by the holder to the Public Debt Office, Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, the Bank of Madras or the Bank of Bombay, in the manner stated in clauses 13 and 14.

(c) A transferree of a conversion warrant issued through the Post Office will be entitled to the same privileges as the original holder, including the right to employ the agency of the Post Office for the conversion of securities held by the Accountant-General, Posts and Telegraphs, on his behalf or purchased by him through the Post Office and held in his own custody.

(d) If the securities thus converted do not make up the full amount allowed by the conversion warrant, the holder will receive from the Post Office a fresh warrant for the difference, unless the unutilised amount is less than Rs. 500, in which case the warrant for the difference will only be issued on special application being made.

(e) In the case of 3½ per cent. or 3 per cent. rupee securities not purchased through the Post Office by the holder of the warrant (or its transferree), the procedure indicated in clause 15 should be followed to effect their conversion.

(f) Conversion of 3½ per cent. or 3 per cent. rupee securities purchased through the Post Office and deposited with the Accountant-General, Posts and Telegraphs, will also be effected by the Accountant-General, Posts and Telegraphs, on presentation as prescribed in (a) above of warrants issued without the intervention of the Post Office.

MY LORD,

Indian Civil Service Family Pensions. Date of next Valuation

In paragraph 3 of my predecessor's Despatch, Financial (Funds), No. 1, dated 30th January 1914, attention was drawn to the very thorough manner in which the whole Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme had been investigated by the late Sir George Hardy, K.C.B., past President of the Institute of Actuaries, in the course of preparing his Reports on the Valuation as at the 31st March 1911. After a careful consideration of these Reports, changes in the Regulations with effect from the 1st April 1914 were authorised embodying certain concessions to the subscribers. As only two years have elapsed since that time, it seems unnecessary as yet to investigate the financial position of the Scheme afresh, especially at a time when great pressure of work is caused by the War. I have, therefore, decided in Council that the next Valuation of the Scheme shall be made as at the 31st March 1918, instead of as at 31st March 1916.

2. You may perhaps consider it desirable to publish this Despatch in the Gazette of India for the information of the subscribers.

I have the honour to be,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servant,

(Signed) AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN.

British Government Notification concerning the exercise by British warships of the right of visit and search of merchant vessels.

No. 175 (first publication).—The following instructions relative to the above, issued by the Coast Inspector, Shanghai, in Notice to Mariners (No. 618 of 1916), are republished :—

Under instructions from the Chinese Government the following extract from a communication from the British Government to the Chinese Government, dealing with the procedure of British warships in exercising the right of visit and search of merchant vessels, is made public :—

When it is the intention of the commander of a warship to send an officer on board a merchant ship by day the following procedure will be adopted. A large red pennant will be hoisted by the warship exercising the right of visit and search. The hoisting of this pennant will be accompanied by the firing of a rocket. This will signify that the merchant ship is to close the boat lowered by the warship whether the warship remains near the boat or not. The procedure to be followed by night will be the same as that by day except that two red Verys lights will be the signal for the merchant ship to close the boat, which, where possible, will be illuminated by a searchlight. When the weather precludes boarding, the ship of war will fire two green Verys lights, which will be the signal for the merchant ship to lie-to till daylight.

The new arrangements will come into force immediately and will not be confined to any particular geographical area. Pending the lapse of a reasonable time for the new signals to become generally known, His Majesty's ships will communicate with merchant ships in the usual code in cases where it is found that the meaning of the signals is not understood.

The communication further states that any orders or signals to a merchant vessel should, for stated reasons of an urgent character, be implicity and instantly obeyed; and that disregard of such orders will necessarily excite suspicion and may lead to the vessel being fired on.

The increase during the week in Coaching is in Local and Foreign passengers and parcels.
The increase in goods is mainly in Rice, Flour, Salt, Sugar, Cement and other miscellaneous goods.
The earnings of the 2nd month of this half-year are somewhat better than the corresponding period of the half-year. The decrease in the total up to date is under goods traffic and is mainly due to the temporary stoppage of booking of goods traffic from Foreign Railways, on account of the block of traffic at Siliguri. There is, however, every prospect that the earnings for the half-year will reach the estimated figure, viz., Rs. 6,40,000. The main decrease in goods up to date is in under Iron and Building materials, Cement and Sugar. The slight increase in coaching traffic is under Foreign passengers and Military baggage.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 1026 Edn.—The 15th June 1916.—The following resolution by the Government of India, Department of Education, is republished for general information.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 399, dated Simla, the 1st May 1916.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Education.

THREE questions of importance have lately been engaging the attention of the Government of India in connection with the policy regarding State scholarships :—

(a) The advisability, in the interest of female education in this country, of assisting and encouraging Indian women to receive a medical training outside India in the United Kingdom or elsewhere;

(b) The insufficiency, in some cases, of the existing rates of Government scholarships; and

(c) The difficulty of securing the admission of State scholars to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge.

2. The importance of (a) has been emphasised by the recent institution of a medical service for women in India. Moreover, the provision of facilities for a course of training in Europe should increase the attractiveness of the study of medicine as well as afford an inducement and an opportunity for the best women graduates to undertake special courses of training abroad. The Government of India have accordingly invited and obtained the approval of the Secretary of State to the grant, from Imperial revenues, to an Indian woman graduate of one scholarship annually, tenable in the United Kingdom or, with special sanction, in foreign countries. This scholarship, however, will not necessarily be confined to the study of medicine but will also be available for training in certain other subjects. The general practice will be that while the scholarship will usually be awarded for the study of medicine, it may also be available for a candidate who desires to undertake some other educational or professional course. Further particulars regarding the scholarship will be found in Appendices I and II. The first scholarship will be awarded in 1916.

3. As regards paragraph 1 (b), it has been found that in the case of scholars residing at an Oxford or Cambridge college the allowance of 200*l.* a year is sufficient only to cover the necessary expenses of college life and permits little margin for vacation and other expenses. The existing allowance of 150*l.* in the case of Oriental scholars is also considered inadequate. Hence, after consultation with local Governments and with the sanction of the Secretary of State the Government of India are pleased to announce that—

(a) The value of the two Government of India University scholarships and of the scholarships granted to a male member of the domiciled community which are mentioned in paragraph 6 (a) and (c) of this resolution shall be raised from 200*l.* to 250*l.* a year when held in a college at Oxford or Cambridge.

(b) The value of the language or Oriental scholarships which are mentioned in paragraph 6 (d) of this resolution shall be raised from 150*l.* to 200*l.* a year, on the understanding that the holders of these scholarships will in future be required to pay their own university fees; and it will be further increased to 250*l.* a year on the same understanding when the scholarship is held in a college at Oxford or Cambridge.

(c) Before a male scholar leaves India his parent or guardian must show that he has sent to the Secretary for Indian Students in London a sum of 25*l.* for initial outfit expenses. In the case of a technical scholar the sum of 15*l.* will be sufficient.

4. With regard to paragraph 1 (c), the difficulty of securing admission to colleges at Oxford and Cambrige is largely due to the late date on which applications for admission on behalf of State scholars are often received. The Secretary of State has recently pointed out that, to ensure success, such applications, accompanied by the requisite testimonials, should reach the Secretary for Indian Students in March or April each year. The importance of the early and punctual submission of the nomination of scholars was therefore brought to the attention of Local Governments and Universities. As will be observed from this Department's letter No. 2428-2432, dated the 24th December 1913, nominations for University scholarships are required to be submitted in the spring or earlier. The Government of India have been in communication with the Secretary of State regarding this matter and have ascertained that, in cases where delay is inevitable through the necessity of awaiting examination results, arrangements for the admission of scholars to Oxford and Cambridge colleges may be made, provided that the selection is reported to the Secretary of State by telegram early in June and testimonials forwarded during that month. In order that this may be done, the Government of India desire that in the case of all State scholarships application should be received on or before May 15th at the very latest. Nominations submitted after that date cannot be considered, as otherwise the interests of all concerned may be affected adversely. It is hoped that by this means the arrangements made for the admission of State scholars to the English Universities, and especially those of Oxford and Cambridge, will be rendered more effective.

5. For the sake of convenience the present opportunity is taken to supersede and collate all previous resolutions and orders on this subject, and to issue the present resolution, the appendices to which deal with State scholarships of all kinds held abroad and the rules relating to them. It is proposed, instead of issuing supplementary instructions which may be required in future, to embody them in re-issues of the present appendices. It is thought that this method will be convenient to the public, since enquiries regarding the conditions of these scholarships are frequent.

6. The Government of India have from time to time sanctioned from Imperial revenues the following State scholarships (including that established in this resolution) tenable abroad by students of this country :—

(a) Two scholarships of 200*l.* or 250*l.* [vide paragraph 3 (a)] to be awarded annually by the Universities (vide the Government of India, Home Department, Resolution No. 1-45-57, dated the 12th February 1886).

(b) Ten technical scholarships of 150*l.* to be awarded annually to statutory natives of India (vide the Government of India, Home Department, Resolution No. 41, dated the 20th January 1904).

(c) One scholarship of 200*l.* or 250*l.* [vide paragraph 3 (a)] to be awarded annually to a male student of the domiciled community (vide the Government of India, Home Department, Resolution No. 221-238, dated the 19th March 1907).

(d) Two scholarships of 200*l.* or 250*l.* [vide paragraph 3 (b)] to be awarded annually for the study of Oriental languages (vide the Government of India, Home Department, Resolution No. 731-743, dated the 1st September 1908).

(e) One scholarship of 200*l.* to be awarded annually to a female candidate of the domiciled community (vide the Government of India, Department of Education, Resolution No. 1233-1247, dated the 10th July 1913).

(f) One scholarship of 200*l.* to be awarded annually to an Indian woman graduate (vide paragraph 2 of this resolution).

Further detailed information regarding these scholarships is given in appendices to this resolution.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Government of { Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, Burma, Bihar and Orissa. } the Chief Commissioner of { the Central Provinces, Assam, the North-West Frontier Province, Coorg, Delhi. } and the Registrar, Calcutta University (through His Excellency the Rector), for information.

Ordered, also, that a copy be forwarded to the { Finance / Home / Foreign and Political } Department for information and that the resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

APPENDIX II—GENERAL AND SPECIAL RULES GOVERNING THE GRANT OF STATE SCHOLARSHIPS.

GENERAL RULES.

(i) Candidates must produce medical evidence of physical fitness to undergo a course of study abroad.

(ii) Except in the case of University scholarships for which (subject to the approval of the Governments of India, Madras and Bombay) the Universities make their own selection, each Local Government is invited to nominate annually a candidate or candidates, as the case may be, and the Government of India select from among those nominated the candidates who appear to them the best fitted to hold the scholarships. For technical scholarships no candidate is to be selected by Local Governments on the result of a competitive examination either open or limited.

(iii) Full details including the name and occupation of the scholar's father and place of birth, a summary of his academic career in India and a statement of the course of study proposed to be followed in the United Kingdom, should be furnished for transmission to the India Office some time before the scholar's arrival in England.

(iv) When nominating candidates already resident in the United Kingdom, Local Governments should give the earliest possible intimation to the Government of India regarding the qualifications of such candidates, the course of study they propose to pursue and their addresses in the United Kingdom. The Government of India will then communicate these particulars to the Secretary of State, and will await a reply from him before selecting the scholars. The Government of India will transmit to Local Governments the views or instructions received from the India Office at the earliest possible date and, if necessary, by telegram.

(v) Difficulties sometimes arise owing to scholars arriving in England with preconceived plans and ideas based on the advice of educational authorities in India as to the courses of study they should follow and the institutions to which they should secure admission, or owing to a scholar's unassisted efforts on his arrival to make his own plans without a sufficient knowledge of the requirements of the educational institutions in the United Kingdom. To obviate this cause of difficulty arrangements should be made to let the India Office receive in good time any special suggestion that may be made by college professors and other educational authorities regarding the course of training which a particular scholar might follow with advantage.

(vi) Selected scholars should communicate with the local Advisory Committee (in Burma, the local branch of the Burma Society) in order that they may obtain advice regarding certificates, etc., and they should, when proceeding to England, take with them the originals of their certificates, testimonials and other important personal documents suggested to them by the local Secretary to the Advisory Committee.

(vii) State scholars are required to proceed to England within a reasonable time from the date of their selection so as to arrive there not later than the middle of September, and to reside there for the period of their scholarship unless compelled to return sooner in consequence of ill-health. The scholarship will be payable from the date on which the scholars report their arrival in England. Selected scholars will be provided with a second-class passage to England and also with a second-class return passage if they carry out the instructions of the Secretary of State, and complete the full period of residence or are compelled by sickness to return within that period.

(viii) The scholarships carry with them no conditions as to any subsequent career or service under Government and no expectations of such employment are held out.

II—SPECIAL RULES.

It is open to each University to consider whether a special examination should be held for the selection of the scholars, or whether the selection should be made on the results of the ordinary examinations. If special examinations are held, the regulations which the University concerned may propose to lay down in regard thereto should be submitted for the previous approval of the Government of India, the necessary arrangements for the conduct of the examinations being made under the orders of the University authorities. The candidates for the special examinations, when such examinations are held, must be young men of proved ability, and will be selected by the Vice-Chancellor on the report of the syndicate or governing body, who will in their turn be guided by the opinions of the professors and examiners concerned.

(b) Technical Scholarships.

(i) Local Governments will consider what industries are of importance in the province, and which of them may best be encouraged by scholarships, taking care to connect the scholarship scheme with the system of technical and industrial education in the province. Industries in which Indian capital and enterprise are engaged or likely to be engaged are particularly appropriate for selection.

(ii) In the autumn of each year Local Governments consult local bodies, leading firms and selected individuals as to the industry which is to be encouraged, etc., and, as a result of this preliminary consultation, issue a notification (with a copy of the technical scholarship rules) containing full particulars of the scholarship to be awarded, not later than December.

(iii) If Local Governments anticipate difficulty in arranging suitable courses in certain subjects, such as the study of fats, oils and soaps, glass making or the manufacture of sugar, a copy of the notification is sent to the Government of India, who communicate with the Secretary of State early in January. The Government of India will reserve their final selection for scholarships till they have ascertained from the Secretary of State that suitable arrangements can be made in such subjects. In case courses cannot be arranged in any subject, it may be found convenient for Local Governments to mention more than one industry in the notification, so that there may be a certain range of subjects and of candidates from which selection can be made.

(iv) In determining the industry to be studied and in choosing a candidate for the scholarship, Local Governments are required to bear in mind the importance of insuring that the scholar on his return will find scope for his skill and experience. In recommending a candidate for the study of any industry connected with agriculture, Local Governments might with advantage consult the Agricultural Adviser to the Government of India as to the course of training which the selected scholar should undergo.

(v) The subjects excluded from the scope of these scholarships are Law, Medicine, Forestry, Veterinary Science, Agriculture, Civil Engineering and Geology. It is not intended to send scholars either to Europe or to America to study the extraction of alkalis or vegetable oil-pressing.

(vi) Candidates selected for scholarships should ordinarily be of such formed character and habits, and of such an age, that detailed tutelage should be unnecessary.

(vii) The form in which recommendations should be submitted will be found in Appendix III to this resolution.

(viii) If a technical scholar is receiving preliminary training in India, a report upon his work and progress should be forwarded to the Government of India for transmission to the Secretary of State at the end of each year, so that his training in India and in England may be made parts of one considered plan, and that no time may be lost on his arrival in England.

(c) Domiciled Community Scholarship (Male Candidates).

(i) The two main principles which govern the grant of the scholarship are—

(a) that, as the object in view is to assist a scholar to take up a University course in England, the scholarship will ordinarily be awarded to a young man at the close of his school career in India so that he may join the University as far as possible at the same age as boys educated in England;

(b) the scholarship will be given to the scholar who is most fitted to benefit from a course of study at a university.

(ii) In making the selection due regard will be paid to the claims of each province to participate in its turn in the scheme.

(d) Language or Oriental Scholarships.

(i) The scholarship will as a rule be awarded to a candidate who has passed examinations in India which will obtain for him admission to a university in Europe as an Advanced or Research student.

(ii) Some elementary knowledge of French and German should, if possible, be acquired by the scholar before leaving India.

(iii) In the selection of scholars for the study of Sanskrit regard should be paid to the following considerations. As the vast range of Sanskrit literature makes it necessary for a scholar to select some special field of Sanskrit learning in which to specialise the choice of the special branch of study should be made in India and the pertinent preparatory studies completed before the scholar leaves for Europe. Professors of Sanskrit in various European universities have complained that individual Language Scholars have been unable to enter at once on the course of study best fitted for them through lack of preliminary knowledge which could quite well have been acquired in India. Accordingly, if a Sanskrit Scholar wishes to specialise on—

(a) Veda or philology, he should have some knowledge of Latin and Greek;

(b) Philosophy, he should have studied one of the systems of Indian philosophy in the original texts, and have read some Plato and Aristotle;

(c) post-Vedic literature, his reading should have extended considerably beyond the limits of the courses prescribed for the M.A. examination of an Indian university.

(e) Domiciled Community Scholarship (Female Candidates) and Scholarship to Indian Women.

If a selected scholar has friends or relatives in the United Kingdom willing to receive her during vacations, their names and addresses should be forwarded to the Educational Adviser in London.

APPENDIX III—FORM IN WHICH RECOMMENDATIONS FOR STATE TECHNICAL SCHOLARSHIPS SHOULD BE MADE.

APPENDIX IV—RULES FOR GOVERNMENT OF INDIA (UNIVERSITY) SCHOLARS IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

1. All Government scholars are required to avail themselves of the information and advice which the Secretary for Indian Students and the Local Advisers at University centres are in a position to give them, and to apply to their Local Adviser for instructions as regards their studies and in any circumstances of difficulty. The Local Advisers at Oxford, Cambridge, Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow have charge of Government scholars studying at those Universities. Scholars studying at other British Universities will be under the charge of the Educational Adviser in London. The Adviser is the proper person to bring before the Secretary for Indian Students any matter requiring the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council.

2. Every scholar should on reaching England at once report himself to the Educational Adviser in London at 21, Cromwell Road, S.W. Accommodation for new arrivals is provided in that house. After seeing the Educational Adviser in London, and consulting with him in regard to his course of study, he should also call on the Secretary for Indian Students at the India Office.

3. Every scholar must obey all instructions which he may receive, either through the Secretary for Indian Students or through his Local Adviser, and must consult his Local Adviser regularly in regard to his work. Any course of study which requires and has received the sanction of the Secretary of State will not be changed without similar sanction.

4. Every scholar must from time to time, whenever the Local Adviser requires it, submit a certificate from the proper College or University Authority, showing that his conduct and progress in study have been satisfactory.

5. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the scholar's allowance will be paid quarterly in advance by the India Office to the Local Adviser under whose charge he is. It will begin from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England, and the Local Adviser will disburse it to the scholar in such instalments as convenience may dictate. Three months after the date of reporting arrival, the amount to the ensuing official Quarter Day* will be paid to the Local Adviser, and subsequent payments will be made in advance on or after each official Quarter Day. The allowance will be at the rate of 200*l.* a year, except in the case of scholars admitted to colleges at Oxford or Cambridge, whose allowances will be increased to 250*l.* a year, to cover the additional expenses involved.

6. Every scholar is required to lodge with the Secretary for Indian Students at the India Office, London, before his arrival in England. the sum of 25*l.* for initial expenses. He will have no claim to payment of any instalment of his scholarship until this deposit has been made.

7. Charges for University and College fees, for private tuition, for books, hotel bills, medical attendance, and travelling (except the two journeys between England and India), must be borne by the scholar and will not be defrayed by the Secretary of State.

8. The scholarship is granted for three years. unless the Secretary of State in the exercise of his discretion sees reason to terminate it sooner. Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the Secretary of State may consider sufficient, fails to comply with the Rules here set forth. It may be terminated at any time if a scholar fails in health or conduct.

9. On the expiration of the scholarship a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second-class passage to India, and he should apply for it without delay through his Local Adviser. He is not entitled to make his own passage arrangements, and to claim an allowance in lieu from the India Office. If a scholarship be forfeited, or if it be resigned before completion of its term, or if the holder of it, on completion of its term, declines to return to India when instructed to do so, the scholar will lose his claim to a free passage back to India.

APPENDIX V—RULES FOR GOVERNMENT OF INDIA (SANSKRIT AND ARABIC) SCHOLARS IN EUROPE.

The Local Advisers at Oxford, Cambridge, Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow have charge of Government scholars studying at those Universities. Scholars studying at other British Universities or abroad will be under the charge of the Educational Adviser in London. The Adviser is the proper person to bring before the Secretary for Indian Students any matter requiring the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council.

He must consult his Local Adviser regularly in regard to his work and carry out any course of study which the Adviser may ultimately prescribe. Any course which requires and has received the sanction of the Secretary of State will not be changed without similar sanction.

4. Every scholar must, from time to time, whenever the Educational Adviser in London or other Local Adviser requires it, submit a certificate from the proper College or University Authority, showing that his conduct and progress in study have been satisfactory.

5. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the scholar's allowance will be paid quarterly in advance by the India Office to the Local Adviser under whose charge he is. The allowance will generally be at the rate of 200*l.* a year, and Language Scholars will not, as a rule, be expected to join Colleges at Oxford or Cambridge. But in the event of a Language Scholar being admitted to an Oxford or Cambridge College, his allowance will be increased to 250*l.* a year, to cover the additional expenses involved.

6. Every scholar is required to lodge with the Secretary for Indian Students at the India Office, London, before his arrival in England, the sum of 25*l.* for initial expenses. He will have no claim to payment of any instalment of his scholarship until this deposit has been made.

9. The scholarship is granted in the first instance for two years, unless the Secretary of State in the exercise of his discretion sees reason to terminate it sooner. Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the Secretary of State may consider sufficient, fails to comply with the Rules here set forth. The scholarship may, for sufficient reasons, be extended beyond two years by the Secretary of State. It may be terminated at any time within the first two years or later, if a scholar fails in health or conduct.

10. On the expiration of the scholarship a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second-class passage to India, and he should apply for it without delay through his Local Adviser. APPENDIX VI—RULES FOR GOVERNMENT OF INDIA (TECHNICAL) SCHOLARS IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

1. All Government scholars are required to avail themselves of the information and advice which the Secretary for Indian Students and the Local Advisers at University centres are in a position to give them, and to apply to their Local Adviser for instructions as regards their studies and in any circumstances of difficulty. The Local Advisers at Oxford, Cambridge, Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow have charge of Government scholars studying at those Universities. Scholars studying elsewhere will be under the charge of the Educational Adviser in London. The Adviser is the proper person to bring before the Secretary for Indian Students any matter requiring the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council.

2. Every scholar should on reaching England at once report himself to the Educational Adviser in London at 21, Cromwell Road, S.W. Accommodation for new arrivals is provided in that house. After seeing the Educational Adviser in London, and consulting with him in regard to his course of study he should also call on the Secretary for Indian Students at the India Office.

3. Every scholar must obey all instructions which he may receive, either through the Secretary for Indian Students or through his Local Adviser, and must consult his Local Adviser regularly in regard to his work. No course of study will be sanctioned which does not provide for an adequate practical training. Any course which has received the sanction of the Secretary of State will not be changed without similar sanction.

4. Every scholar must from time to time, whenever the Local Adviser requires it, submit a certificate from the proper College or University Authority, or from any other Authority under whom he is working, showing that his conduct and progress have been satisfactory.

5. Every scholar must give a written undertaking that he will devote himself exclusively, during the tenure of his scholarship, to the study of the subject for which his scholarship was granted, and that he will return to India on its termination, and there continue to devote himself to the industry which he has studied. Any scholar who neglects his studies, or tries to work for any other profession concurrently, will render himself liable to forfeiture of his scholarship.

6. Every scholar will be required to keep a concise diary, to be submitted at the end of each term to his Local Adviser, and to be forwarded through the Local Adviser at the end of each academic year to the Secretary of State for transmission to India.

7. Scholars will be expected to continue their studies during vacations with the exception of three weeks in each year. Vacation study should, as far as possible, take form of practical work.

8. Plans for vacation work, accompanied by a complete estimate of any extra expenses for fees or travelling involved, should be sent in to the Local Adviser six weeks before the end of any academic term. Scholars are not entitled to any subsistence allowance in addition to the scholarship allowance during time spent on vacation work, but a scholar who receives permission to visit the Continent may, if the Secretary of State for India in Council considers that the circumstances render it desirable, be granted a subsistence allowance calculated at such rate as the Secretary of State may decide.

9. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the scholar's allowance will be paid quarterly in advance by the India Office to the Local Adviser under whose charge he is. It will begin from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England, and the Local Adviser will disburse it to the scholar in such instalments as convenience may indicate. Three months after the date of reporting arrival, the amount to the ensuing official Quarter Day * will be paid to the Local Adviser, and subsequent payments will be made in advance on or after each official Quarter Day. The allowance will, except in special cases, be at the rate of 150*l.* a year.

10. Every scholar is required to lodge with the Secretary for Indian Students at the India Office, London, before his arrival in England, the sum of 15*l.* for initial expenses. He will have no claim to payment of any instalment of his Scholarship until this deposit has been made.

11. Charges for University and College fees, premiums for practical training, and the necessary expenses of scholars by second class, or by third class, if no second be available, will, if sanctioned, be defrayed by the Secretary of State. Applications for payment of all these charges should be made through the Local Adviser. But charges for private tuition, unless specially sanctioned, for books, instruments, hotel bills and medical attendance, must be paid by the scholar himself.

12. No claim can be admitted for the payment of any expenditure unless the scholar has obtained previous sanction from the Secretary of State.

* Note.—The official Quarter Days are the 1st of January, the 1st of April, the 1st of July and the 1st of October.

13. The scholarship is granted in the first instance for two years, unless the Secretary of State in the exercise of his discretion sees reason to terminate it sooner. Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the Secretary of State may consider sufficient, fails to comply with the Rules here set forth. It may be terminated at any time if a scholar fails in health or conduct. It may also be extended for a third year or longer. if the Secretary of State decides that such an extension is required to complete the scholar's training.

14. On the expiration of the scholarship a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second-class passage to India, and he should apply for it without delay through his Local Adviser. He is not entitled to make his own passage arrangements and to claim an allowance in lieu from the India Office. If a scholarship be forfeited, or if it be resigned before completion of its term, or if the holder of it, on completion of its term, declines to return to India when instructed to do so, the scholar will lose his claim to a free passage back to India.

War Office,

London, S. W.

10th April 1916.

The following despatch has been received by the Secretary of State for War from General Sir C. C. Monro, K.C.B. :—

Headquarters,

1st Army,

France,

6th March 1916.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to submit herewith a brief account of the operations in the Eastern Mediterranean from the 28th October 1915, on which date I assumed command of the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force, until the 9th January 1916, when, in compliance with your directions, I handed over charge at Cairo to Lieut.-General Sir Archibald Murray, K.C.B., C.V.O., D.S.O.

On the 20th October in London, I received your Lordship's instructions to proceed as soon as possible to the near East and take over the command of the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force.

My duty on arrival was in broad outline :—

(a) To report on the military situation on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

(b) To express an opinion whether on purely military grounds the Peninsula should be evacuated, or another attempt made to carry it.

(c) The number of troops that would be required,

(1) to carry the Peninsula,

(2) to keep the Straits open, and

(3) to take Constantinople.

Two days after my arrival at Imbros, where the headquarters of the M.E.F. was established, I proceeded to the Peninsula to investigate the military situation. The impressions I gathered are summarised very shortly as follows :—

The positions occupied by our troops presented a military situation unique in history. The mere fringe of the coast line had been secured. The beaches and piers upon which they depended for all requirements in personnel and material were exposed to registered and observed Artillery fire. Our entrenchments were dominated almost throughout by the Turks. The possible Artillery positions were insufficient and defective. The force, in short, held a line possessing every possible military defect. The position was without depth, the communications were insecure and dependent on the weather. No means existed for the concealment and deployment of fresh troops destined for the offensive—whilst the Turks enjoyed full powers of observation, abundant Artillery positions, and they had been given the time to supplement the natural advantages which the position presented by all the devices at the disposal of the Field Engineer.

Another material factor came prominently before me. The troops on the Peninsula had suffered much from various causes.

(a) It was not in the first place possible to withdraw them from the shell-swept area as is done when necessary in France, for every corner on the Peninsula is exposed to hostile fire.

(b) They were much enervated from the diseases which are endemic in that part of Europe in the summer.

(c) In consequence of the losses which they had suffered in earlier battles, there was a very grave dearth of officers competent to take command of men.

(d) In order to maintain the numbers needed to hold the front, the Territorial Divisions had been augmented by the attachment of Yeomanry and Mounted Brigades. Makeshifts of this nature very obviously did not tend to create efficiency.

Other arguments, irrefutable in their conclusions, convinced me that a complete evacuation was the only wise course to pursue.

(a) It was obvious that the Turks could hold us in front with a small force and prosecute their designs on Baghdad or Egypt, or both.

(b) An advance from the positions we held could not be regarded as a reasonable military operation to expect.

(c) Even had we been able to make an advance in the Peninsula, our position would not have been ameliorated to any marked degree, and an advance on Constantinople was quite out of the question

(d) Since we could not hope to achieve any purpose by remaining on the Peninsula, the appalling cost to the nation involved in consequence of embarking on an Overseas Expedition with no base available for the rapid transit of stores, supplies and personnel, made it urgent that we should divert the troops locked up on the Peninsula to a more useful theatre.

Since therefore I could see no military advantage in our continued occupation of positions on the Peninsula. I telegraphed to your Lordship that in my opinion the evacuation of the Peninsula should be taken in hand.

Subsequently, I proceeded to Egypt to confer with Colonel Sir H. McMahon, the High Commissioner, and Lieut.-General Sir J. Maxwell, Commanding the Forces in Egypt, over the situation which might be created in Egypt and the Arab world by the evacuation of the Peninsula.

Whilst in Egypt I was ordered by a telegram from the War Office to take command of the troops at Salonika. The purport of this telegram was subsequently cancelled by your Lordship on your arrival at Mudros, and I was then ordered to assume Command of the Forces in the Mediterranean, east of Malta, and exclusive of Egypt.

Consequent on these instructions, I received approval that the two Forces in the Mediterranean should be designated as follows:—

(a) The original Mediterranean Expeditionary Force, which comprised the Forces operating on the Gallipoli Peninsula and those employed at Mudros and Imbros as the "Dardanelles Army," under Lieut.-General Sir W. Birdwood, K.C.B., etc., with headquarters at Imbros.

(b) The troops destined for Salonika as the "Salonika Army," under Lieut.-General Sir B. Mahon, K.C.B., with headquarters at Salonika.

The staff of the original M.E.F. was left in part to form the Dardanelles Army, and the remainder were taken to make a General Headquarter Staff for the increased responsibilities now assumed. Other officers doing duty in this theatre with the necessary qualifications were selected, and, with no difficulty or demands on home resources, a thoroughly efficient and adequate Staff was created.

Mudros was selected as being the most suitable site for the establishment of headquarters, as affording an opportunity, in addition to other advantages, of daily consultation with the Inspector General, Line of Communications The working of the services of the Line of Communications presented difficulties of an unique character, mainly owing to—

(a) the absence of pier and wharfage accommodation at Mudros and the necessity of transferring all Ordnance and Engineer Stores from one ship to another;

(b) the submarine danger;

(c) the delay caused by rough weather.

Close association with General Altham was therefore most imperative and by this means many important changes were made which conduced to greater efficiency and more prompt response to the demands of fighting units.

A narrative of the events which occurred in each of the two Armies is now recorded separately for facility of perusal and reference.

SALONIKA ARMY.

Early in October the 10th Division, under Lieut.-General Sir B. Mahon, K.C.B., was transferred from Suvla to Salonika, and fully concentrated there. The dislocation of units caused by the landing on the Peninsula and the subsequent heavy fighting which occurred prevented this Division being despatched intact. The organization of the Infantry and the Royal Engineers was not disturbed, but the other services had to be improvised from other Divisions as found most accessible.

The arrival of the 10th Division had been preceded by two French Divisions under General Sarrail, whose Force was subsequently augmented by another Division. These three Divisions were then moved into Servia under the understanding arranged between the Allied Governments, which was to the effect that the French Forces were to protect the railway between Krivolak and Veles, and to ensure communication with the Servian Army, whilst the British were to maintain the position from Salonika to Krivolak, and to support the French Right. If communication with the Servian Army could not be opened and maintained, the Allied Forces were to be withdrawn.

With this object, two Battalions of the 10th Division were moved from Salonika on 27th October, and took over the French front from Kostorino to Lake Doiran. The remainder of the Division was sent to Servia on 12th November and following days, and took over the French front eastwards from Kosturino.

The task of moving troops into Servia and maintaining them there presented many difficulties. No road exists from Salonika to Doiran, a few miles of road then obtains, which is followed within a few miles by a track only suitable for pack transport. Sir B. Mahon had therefore to readjust his transport to a pack scale, and was dependent on a railway of uncertain carrying power to convey back his guns and all wheeled traffic in case of a withdrawal, and to supply his troops whilst in Servia.

Very soon afterwards reinforcements commenced to arrive. The disembarkation of these new divisions was an operation which taxed the powers of organization and resources of the staff at Salonika to the highest degree possible, and it speaks highly for their capacity that they were able to shelter and feed the troops as they arrived.

During November and the early part of December the 10th Division was holding its position in Servia, and the disembarkation of other divisions was proceeding with difficulty.

In order to gain time for the landing of the troops, and their deployment on the positions selected, I represented to General Sarrail and Sir B. Mahon the urgent need of the divisions withdrawing from Servia being utilised as a covering force, and retaining their ground as such until the Forces disembarking were thoroughly in a position to hold their front.

It had been evident for some time that the power of resistance of the Servian Armies was broken, and that the Allied Forces could afford them no material assistance It was also clear from all information received that the position of our troops was becoming daily more precarious owing to a large German-Bulgarian concentration in the Strumniza Valley. I, therefore, again pressed General Sarrail to proceed with his withdrawal from the positions he was holding. The British Division operating as it was, as the pivot upon which the withdrawal was effected, was compelled to hold its ground until the French Left was brought back.

Before our withdrawal was completed the 10th Division was heavily attacked on the 6th, 7th and 8th December, by superior Bulgarian Forces. The troops had suffered considerably from the cold in the Highlands of Macedonia, and in the circumstances conducted themselves very creditably in being able to extricate themselves from a difficult position with no great losses. The account of this action was reported by wire to you by General Mahon on the 11th December: no further reference is therefore necessary to this incident.

As soon as I was informed that the 10th Division was being heavily pressed, I directed Sir B. Mahon to send a Brigade up the railway line in support, and to hold another Brigade ready to proceed at short notice. The withdrawal was, however, conducted into Greek territory without further opposition from the Bulgarians.

Meanwhile, the operation of disembarkation at Salonika was being carried out with all possible speed, and the Greek Authorities through their representative from Athens, Colonel Pallis, were informed by me that we intended to proceed to the defensive line selected. This intimation was received in good part by the Greek Generals. They commenced to withdraw their troops further to the East where they did not hamper our plans, and they showed a disposition to meet our demands in a reasonable and friendly spirit.

Whilst dealing with the events above enumerated, I desire to give special prominence to the difficulties to which General Sir B. Mahon was exposed from the time of his landing at Salonika, and the ability which he displayed in overcoming them. The subjoined instances, selected from many which could be given, will illustrate my contention. and the high standard of administrative capacity displayed by the G. O. C. and his Staff:—

(a) From the date on which the 10th Division first proceeded into Servia until the date of its withdrawal across the Greek frontier, personnel, guns, supplies and material of all kinds had to be sent up by rail to Doiran, and onwards by march, motor lorries, limbered waggons and pack animals. This railway, moreover, was merely a single track, and had to serve the demands of the local population as well as our needs. The evacuation of the wounded and sick had to be arranged on similar lines, yet the requirements of the troops were fully satisfied.

(b) The majority of the Divisions were sent without trains to Salonika, most units without first line transport; in spite of this, part of the Force was converted into a mobile condition with very little delay.

(c) The complications presented by the distribution and checking of stores, supplies, ammunition, etc., discharged from ships on to quays, with insufficient accommodation or storehouses, and with crude means of ingress and egress therefrom, and served by a single road which was divided between the French and ourselves, constituted a problem which could only be solved by officers of high administrative powers. I trust, therefore, that full recognition may be given to my recommendation of the officers who rendered such fine service under such arduous conditions.

THE DARDENELLES ARMY.

On my arrival in the Mediterranean theatre a gratifying decline in the high rate of sickness which had prevailed in the Force during the summer months had become apparent. The wastage due to this cause still, however, remained very high.

The Corps Commanders were urged to take all advantage of the improved weather conditions to strengthen their positions by all available means, and to reduce to the last degree possible all animals not actually required for the maintenance of the troops, in order to relieve the strain imposed on the Naval Transport Service.

During the month of November, beyond the execution of very clever and successful minor enterprises carried out by Corps Commanders with a view to maintaining an offensive spirit in their commands, there remains little to record—except that an increased activity of the Turkish artillery against our front became a noticeable factor.

On the 21st November the Peninsula was visited by a storm said to be nearly unprecedented for the time of the year. The storm was accompanied by torrential rain, which lasted for 24 hours. This was followed by hard frost and a heavy blizzard. In the areas of the 8th Corps and the Anzac Corps the effects were not felt to a very marked degree owing to the protection offered by the surrounding hills. The 9th Corps were less favourably situated, the water courses in this area became converted into surging rivers, which carried all before them. The water rose in many places to the height of the parapets and all means of communications were prevented. The men, drenched as they were by the rain, suffered from the subsequent blizzard most severely. Large numbers collapsed from exposure and exhaustion, and in spite of untiring efforts that were made to mitigate the suffering, I regret to announce that there were 200 deaths from exposure and over 10,000 sick evacuated during the first few days of December.

From reports given by deserters it is probable that the Turks suffered even to a greater degree.

In this period our flimsy piers, breakwaters and light shipping became damaged by the storm to a degree which might have involved most serious consequences, and was a very potent indication of the dangers attached to the maintenance and supply of an army operating on a coast line with no harbour, and devoid of all the accessories such as wharves, piers, cranes and derricks for the discharge and distribution of stores, etc.

Towards the latter end of the month, having in view the possibility of an evacuation of the Peninsula being ordered, I directed Lieutenant-General Sir W. Birdwood, Commanding the Dardanelles Army, to prepare a scheme to this end, in order that all details should be ready in case of sanction being given to this operation.

I had in broad outline contemplated soon after my arrival on the Peninsula that an evacuation could best be conducted by a sub-division into three stages.

The first during which all troops, animals and supplies not required for a long campaign should be withdrawn.

The second to comprise the evacuation of all men, guns, animals and stores not required for defence during a period when the conditions of weather might retard the evacuation, or in fact seriously alter the programme contemplated.

The third or final stage, in which the troops on shore should be embarked with all possible speed, leaving behind such guns, animals and stores needed for military reasons at this period.

This problem with which we were confronted was the withdrawal of an army of a considerable size from positions in no cases more than 300 yards from the enemy's trenches, and its embarkation on open beaches, every part of which were within effective range of Turkish guns, and from which in winds from the south or south-west, the withdrawal of troops was not possible.

The attitude which we should adopt from a naval and military point of view in case of withdrawal from the Peninsula being ordered, had given me much anxious thought. According to text-book principles and the lessons to be gathered from history it seemed essential that this operation of evacuation should be immediately preceded by a combined naval and military feint in the vicinity of the Peninsula, with a view to distracting the attention of the Turks from our intention. When endeavouring to work out into concrete fact how such principles could be applied to the situation of our Forces, I came to the conclusion that our chances of success were infinitely more probable if we made no departure of any kind from the normal life which we were following both on sea and on land. A feint which did not fully fulfil its purpose would have been worse than useless, and there was the obvious danger that the suspicion of the Turks would be aroused by our adoption of a course, the real purport of which could not have been long disguised.

On the 8th December, consequent on your Lordship's orders, I directed the General Officer Commanding Dardanelles Army to proceed with the evacuation of Suvla and Anzac at once.

Rapidity of action was imperative, having in view the unsettled weather which might be expected in the Ægean. The success of our operations was entirely dependent on weather conditions. Even a mild wind from the south or south-west was found to raise such a ground swell as to greatly impede communication with the beaches, while anything in the nature of a gale from this direction could not fail to break up the piers, wreck the small craft, and thus definitely prevent any steps being taken towards withdrawal.

We had, moreover, during the gale of the 21st November, learnt how entirely we were at the mercy of the elements with the slender and inadequate means at our disposal by which we had endeavoured to improvise harbours and piers. On that day the harbour at Kephalos was completely wrecked, one of the ships which had been sunk to form a breakwater was broken up, and the whole of the small craft sheltered inside the breakwater were washed ashore. Similar damage was done to our piers, lighters and small craft at Suvla and Anzac.

Lieutenant-General Birdwood proceeded on receipt of his orders with the skill and promptitude which is characteristic of all that he undertakes, and after consultation with Rear-Admiral Wemyss, it was decided, provided the weather was propitious, to complete the evacuation on the night of the 19th-20th December.

Throughout the period 10th to 18th December the withdrawal proceeded under the most auspicious conditions, and the morning of the 18th December found the positions both at Anzac and Suvla reduced to the numbers determined, while the evacuation of guns, animals, stores and supplies had continued most satisfactorily.

The arrangements for the final withdrawal made by Corps Commanders were as follows :—

It was imperative, of course, that the front line trenches should be held, however lightly, until the very last moment and that the withdrawal from these trenches should be simultaneous throughout the line. To ensure this being done, Lieutenant-General Sir W. Birdwood arranged that the withdrawal of the inner flanks of corps should be conducted to a common embarking area under the orders of the G. O. C., 9th Corps.

In the rear of the front line trenches at Suvla the General Officer Commanding 9th Corps broke up his area into two sections divided roughly by the Salt Lake. In the Southern Section a defensive line had been prepared from the Salt Lake to the sea and Lala Baba had been prepared for defence, on the left the second line ran from Kara Kol Dagh through Hill 10 to the Salt Lake. These lines were only to be held in case of emergency—the principle governing the withdrawal being that the troops should proceed direct from the trenches to the distributing centres near the Beach, and that no intermediate positions should be occupied except in case of necessity.

At Anzac, owing to the proximity of the trenches to the Beach, no second position was prepared except at Anzac Cove, where a small keep was arranged to cover the withdrawal of the rearmost parties in case of necessity.

The good fortune which had attended the evacuation continued during the night of the 19th-20th. The night was perfectly calm with a slight haze over the moon, an additional stroke of good luck, as there was a full moon on that night.

Soon after dark the covering ships were all in position, and the final withdrawal began. At 1-30 A.M. the withdrawal of the rear parties commenced from the front trenches at Suvla and the left of Anzac. Those on the right of Anzac who were nearer the Beach remained in position until 2 A.M. By 5-30 A.M. the last man had quitted the trenches.

At Anzac, 4 18-pounder guns, 2 5-inch howitzers, one 4·7 Naval gun, 1 anti-aircraft, and 2 3-pounder Hotchkiss guns were left, but they were destroyed before the troops finally embarked. In addition, 56 mules, a certain number of carts, mostly stripped of their wheels, and some supplies which were set on fire, were also abandoned.

At Suvla every gun, vehicle and animal was embarked, and all that remained was a small stock of supplies which were burnt.

Early in December orders had been issued for the withdrawal of the French troops on Helles, other than their artillery, and a portion of the line held by French Creoles had already been taken over by the Royal Naval Division on the 12th December. On the 21st December, having strengthened the 8th Corps with the 86th Brigade, the number of the French garrison doing duty on the Peninsula was reduced to 4,000 men. These it was hoped to relieve early in January, but before doing so it was necessary to give some respite from trench work to the 42nd Division, which was badly in need of a rest. My intention, therefore, was first to relieve the 42nd Division by the 88th Brigade, then to bring up the 13th Division, which was resting at Imbros since the evacuation of Suvla, in place of the 29th Division, and finally to bring up the 11th Division in relief of the French. Helles would then be held by the 52nd, 11th and 13th Divisions, with the Royal Naval Division and the 42nd Division in reserve on adjacent islands.

On the 24th December, General Sir W. Birdwood was directed to make all preliminary preparations for immediate evacuation, in the event of orders to this effect being received.

On 28th December Your Lordship's telegram ordering the evacuation of Helles was received, whereupon, in view of the possibility of bad weather intervening, I instructed the General Officer Commanding Dardanelles Army to complete the operation as rapidly as possible. He was reminded that every effort conditional on not exposing the personnel to undue risk should be made to save all 60-pounder and 18-pounder guns, 6-inch and 4·5 howitzers, with their ammunition and other accessories, such as mules and A. T. carts, limbered waggons, etc. In addition, I expressed my wish that the final evacuation should be completed in one night, and that the troops should withdraw direct from the front trenches to the beaches, and not occupy any intermediate position unless seriously molested At a meeting which was attended by the Vice-Admiral and the General Officer Commanding Dardanelles Army, I explained the course which I thought we should adopt to again deceive the Turks as to our intentions. The situation on the Peninsula had not materially changed owing to our withdrawal from Suvla and Anzac, except that there was a marked increased activity in ærial reconnaissance over our positions, and the islands of Mudros and Imbros, and that hostile parolling of our trenches was more frequent and daring. The most apparent factor was that the number of heavy guns on the European and Asiatic shores had been considerably augmented. and that these guns were more liberally supplied with German ammunition, the result of which was that our beaches were continuously shelled. especially from the Asiatic shore. I gave it as my opinion that in my judgment I did not regard a feint as an operation offering any prospect of success. Time, the uncertainty of weather conditions in the Ægean, the absence of a suitable locality, and the withdrawal of small craft from the main issue for such an operation were some of the reasons which influenced me in the decision at which I arrived. With the concurrence of the Vice-Admiral, therefore, it was decided the Navy should do their utmost to pursue a course of retaliation against the Turkish Batteries, but to refrain from any unusually aggressive attitude should the Turkish guns remain quiescent.

General Sir W. Birdwood had, in anticipation of being ordered to evacuate Helles, made such complete and far-seeing arrangements that he was able to proceed without delay to the issue of the comprehensive orders which the consummation of such a delicate operation in war requires.

He primarily arranged with General Brulard, who commanded the French Forces on the Peninsula, that in order to escape the disadvantages of divided command in the final stage, the French Infantry should be relieved as early as possible, but that their artillery should pass under the orders of the General Officer Commanding, 8th Corps, and be withdrawn concurrently with the British guns at the opportune moment.

On the 30th December, in consequence of the instructions I had received from the Chief of the General Staff to hand over my command at Alexandria to Lieutenant-General Sir A. Murray, who, it was stated, was to leave England on the 28th December, I broke up my Head-quarters at Mudros and proceeded with a small staff, comprising representatives of the General Staff, the Quartermaster-General and Adjutant-General's branches, on H.M.S. "Cornwallis" to Alexandria. The rest of the Staff were sent on in front so as to have offices in working order when my successor should arrive.

In the meantime the evacuation, following the same system as was practised at Suvla and Anzac, proceeded without delay. The French Infantry remaining on the Peninsula were relieved on the night of the 1st-2nd January, and were embarked by the French Navy on the following nights. Progress, however, was slower than had been hoped, owing to delays caused by accident and the weather. One of our largest horse ships was sunk by a French battleship, whereby the withdrawal was considerably retarded, and at the same time strong winds sprang up which interfered materially with work on the beaches. The character of the weather now setting in offered so little hope of a calm period of any duration, that General Sir W. Birdwood arranged with Admiral Sir J. deRobeck for the assistance of some destroyers in order to accelerate the progress of re-embarkation. They then determined to fix the final stages of the evacuation for the 8th January, or for the first fine night after that date.

Meanwhile the 8th Corps had maintained the offensive spirit in bombing and minor operations with which they had established the moral superiority they enjoyed over the enemy. On the 29th December the 52nd Division completed the excellent work which they had been carrying out for so long by capturing a considerable portion of the Turkish trenches, and by successfully holding these in the face of repeated counter-attacks. The shelling of our trenchs and beaches, however, increased in frequency and intensity, and the average daily casualties continued to increase.

The method of evacuation adopted by Lieutenant-General Sir F. J. Davies, K.C.B., Commanding 8th Corps, followed in general outline that which had proved successful in the Northern Zone. As the removal of the whole of the heavy guns capable of replying to the enemy's artillery would have indicated our intentions to the enemy, it was decided to retain, but eventually destroy, one 6-inch British gun and six French heavy guns of old pattern which it would be impossible to remove on the last night. General Brulard himself suggested the destruction of these French guns.

The first step taken as regards the withdrawal of the troops was the formation of a strong Embarkation Staff and the preparation of positions covering the landings, in which small garrisons could maintain themselves against attack for a short time should the enemy become aware of our intention and follow up the movement.

Major-General the Hon'ble H. A. Lawrence, commanding the 52nd Division, was selected to take charge of all embarkation operations. At the same time the services of various staff officers were placed at the disposal of the General Officer Commanding, 8th Corps, and they rendered very valuable assistance.

The General Officer Commanding, 13th Division, selected and prepared a position covering Gully Beach. Other lines were selected and entrenched, covering the remainder of the beaches from the sea north of Sedd-el-Bahr to "X" Beach inclusive. Garrisons were detailed for these defences, those at Gully Beach being under the General Officer Commanding, 13th Division, and those covering the remainder of the beaches being placed under the command of a selected officer, whose headquarters were established at an early date, together with those of the General Officer Commanding, Embarkation, at Corps Headquarters.

As the withdrawing troops passed within the line of these defences they came under the orders of the General Officer Commanding, Embarkation, which were conveyed to them by his staff officers at each beach.

In addition to these beach defences four lines of defence were arranged, three being already in existence and strongly wired. The fourth was a line of posts extending from De Tott's Battery on the east to the position covering Gully Beach on the west.

The time fixed for the last parties to leave the front trenches was 11-45 P.M., in order to permit the majority of the troops being already embarked before the front line was vacated. It was calculated that it would take between two and three hours for them to reach the beaches, at the conclusion of which time the craft to embark them would be ready.

The Naval arrangements for embarkation were placed in the hands of Captain C. M. Staveley, R.N., assisted by a staff of Naval officers at each place of embarkation.

On the 7th January the enemy developed heavy artillery fire on the trenches held by the 13th Division, while the Asiatic guns shelled those occupied by the Royal Naval Division. The bombardment, which was reported to be the heaviest experienced since we landed in April, lasted from noon until 5 P.M., and was intensive between 3 P.M. and 3-30. Considerable damage was done to our parapets and communication trenches, and telephone communications were interrupted. At 3-30 P.M. two Turkish mines were sprung near Fusilier Bluff, and the Turkish trenches were seen to be full of men whom their officers appeared to be urging to the assault. No attack, however, was developed except against Fusilier Bluff, where a half-hearted assault was quickly repulsed. Our shortage of artillery at this time was amply compensated for by the support received from fire of the supporting squardon under Captain D. L. Dent, R.N. Our casualties amounted to 2 officers and 56 other ranks killed, and 4 officers and 102 other ranks wounded.

The 8th January was a bright, calm day, with a light breeze from the south. There was every indication of the continuance of favourable conditions, and, in the opinion of the Meteorological Officer, no important change was to be expected for at lsast 24 hours. The Turkish artillery were unusually inactive All preparations for the execution of the final stage were complete.

The embarkation was fixed at such an hour that the troops detailed for the first trip might be able to leave their positions after dark. The second trip was timed so that at least a greater portion of the troops for this trip would, if all went well, be embarked before the final parties had left the front trenches. The numbers to be embarked at the first trip were fixed by the maximum that could be carried by the craft available, those of the second trip being reduced in order to provide for the possibility of casualties occurring amongst the craft required to carry them.

The numbers for the third trip consisted only of the parties left to hold front trenches to the last, together with the garrisons of the beach defences, the Naval and Military beach personnel and such R. E. personnel as might be required to effect the necessary repairs to any piers or harbour works that might be damaged.

About 7 P.M. the breeze freshened considerably from the south-west, the most unfavourable quarter, but the first trip, timed for 8 P.M., was despatched without difficulty. The wind, however, continued to rise until, by 11 P.M., the connecting pier between the hulks and the shore at "W" Beach was washed away by heavy seas, and further embarkation into destroyers from these hulks became impracticable. In spite of these difficulties the second trips, which commenced at 11-30 P.M., were carried out well up to time, and the embarkation of guns continued uninterruptedly. Early in the evening reports had been received from the right flank that a hostile submarine was believed to be moving down the Straits, and about midnight H.M.S. "Prince George," which had embarked 2,000 men, and was sailing for Mudros, reported she was struck by a torpedo which failed to explode. The indications of the presence of a submarine added considerably to the anxiety for the safety of the troop carriers, and made it necessary for the Vice-Admiral to modify the arrangements made for the subsequent bombardment of the evacuated positions.

At 1-50 A.M., Gully Beach reported that the embarkation at that beach was complete, and that the lighters were about to push off, but at 2-10 A.M. a telephone message was received that one of the lighters was aground and could not be refloated. The N.T.O. at once took all possible steps to have another lighter sent in to Gully Beach, and this was, as a matter of fact, done within an hour, but in the meantime at 2-30 A.M. it was decided to move the 160 men, who had been relanded from the grounded lighter, to "W" Beach and embark them there.

From 2-40 A.M. the steadily increasing swell caused the N.T.O. the greatest anxiety as to the possibility of embarking the remainder of the troops if their arrival was much deferred.

At 3-30 A.M. the evacuation was complete, and abandoned heaps of stores and supplies were successfully set on fire by time fuzes after the last man had embarked. Two magazines of ammunition and explosives were also successfully blown up at 4 P.M. These conflagrations were apparently the first intimation received by the Turks that we had withdrawn. Red lights were immediately discharged from the enemy's trenches, and heavy artillery fire opened on our trenches and beaches This shelling was maintained until about 6-30 A.M.

Apart from four unserviceable fifteen-pounders which had been destroyed earlier in the month, 10 worn-out fifteen-pounders, 1 six inch Mark VII gun, and 6 old heavy French guns, all of which were previously blown up, were left on the Peninsula. In addition to the above, 508 animals, most of which were destroyed, and a number of vehicles and considerable quantities of stores, material, and supplies, all of which were destroyed by burning, had to be abandoned.

It would have been possible, of course, by extending the period during which the process of evacuation proceeded to have reduced the quantity of stores and material that was left behind on the Peninsula, but not to the degree that may seem apparent at first sight. Our chances of enjoying a continuity of fine weather in the Ægean were very slender in the month of January; it was indeed a contingency that had to be reckoned with that we might very probably be visited by a spell of bad weather which would cut us off completely from the Peninsula for a fortnight or perhaps for even longer.

Supplies, ammunition and material to a certain degree had therefore to be left to the last moment for fear of the isolation of the garrison at any moment when the evacuation might be in progress. I decided therefore that our aim should be primarily the withdrawal of the bulk of the personnel, artillery and ammunition in the intermediate period, and that no risks should be taken in prolonging the withdrawal of personnel at the final stage with a view to reducing the quantity of stores left.

The entire evacuation of the Peninsula had now been completed. It demanded for its successful realisation two important military essentials, viz., good luck and skilled disciplined organisation, and they were both forthcoming to a marked degree at the hour needed. Our luck was in the ascendant by the marvellous spell of calm weather which prevailed. But we were able to turn to the fullest advantage these accidents of fortune.

Lieutenant-General Sir W. Birdwood and his Corps Commanders elaborated and prepared the orders in reference to the evacuation with a skill, competence and courage which could not have been surpassed, and we had a further stroke of good fortune in being associated with Vice-Admiral Sir J. de Robeck, K.C.B., Vice-Admiral Wemyss, and a body of Naval Officers whose work remained throughout this anxious period at that standard of accuracy and professional ability which is beyond the power of criticism or cavil.

The Line of Communication Staff, both Naval and Military, represented respectively by Lieutenant-General E. A. Altham, C.B., C.M.G., Commodore M. S. FitzMaurice, R.N., Principal Naval Transport Officer, and Captain H. V. Simpson, R.N., Superintending Transport Officer, contributed to the success of the operation by their untiring zeal and conspicuous ability.

The members of the Headquarters Staff showed themselves, without exception, to be officers with whom it was a privilege to be associated; their competence, zeal and devotion to duty were uniform and unbroken. Amongst such a highly trained body of officers it is difficult to select and discriminate. I confine myself, therefore, to placing on record the fine services rendered by—

Colonel (temporary Major-General) Arthur Lynden Lynden-Bell, C.B., C.M.G., Chief of General Staff, G. H. Q.;

Colonel (temporary Major-General) Walter Campbell, C.B., D.S.O. Deputy Quartermaster-General, G.H.Q., M.E.F.

Lieutenant-Colonel (temporary Brigadier-General) W. Gillman, C.M.G., D.S.O., Brigadier-General, General Staff;

Brevet Major (temporary Lieutenant-Colonel) G. P. Dawnay, D.S.O., M.V.O., General Staff; and whilst bringing to notice the names of these officers to whom I am so much indebted, I trust I may be permitted to represent the loyal, cordial, and unswerving assistance rendered by General J. M. J. A. Brulard, Commanding the French Troops in the Peninsula.

Before concluding this inadequate account of the events which happened during my tenure of command of the Forces in the Eastern Mediterranean. I desire to give a brief explanation of the work which was carried out on the Line of Communications, and to place on record my appreciation of the admirable work rendered by the officers responsible for this important service.

On the Dardanelles Peninsula it may be said that the whole of the machinery by which the text-books contemplate the maintenance and supply of an army was non-existent. The zone commanded by the enemy's guns extended not only to the landing places on the Peninsula, but even over the sea in the vicinity.

The beaches were the advanced depôts and refilling points at which the services of supply had to be carried out under artillery fire. The landing of stores as well as of troops was only possible under cover of darkness.

The sea, the ships, lighters and tugs took, in fact, the place of railways and roads, with their railway trains, mechanical transport, etc., but with this difference, that the use of the latter is subject only to the intervention of the enemy, while that of the former was dependent on the weather.

Between the beaches and the Base at Alexandria, 800 miles to the south, the Line of Communications had but two harbours, Kephalos Bay on the island of Imbros, 15 miles roughly from the beaches, and Mudros Bay, at a distance of 60 miles. In neither were there any piers, breakwaters, wharves or storehouses of any description before the advent of the troops. On the shores of these two bays there were no roads of any military value, or buildings fit for military usege. The water supply at these islands was, until developed, totally inadequate for our needs.

The Peninsula landing places were open beaches. Kephalos Bay is without protection from the north, and swept by a high sea in northerly gales. In Mudros Harbour, transhipments and disembarkations were often seriously impeded with a wind from the north or south. These difficulties were accentuated by the advent of submarines in the Ægean Sea, on account of which the Vice-Admiral deemed it necessary to prohibit any transport or store ship exceeding 1,500 tons proceeding north of Mudros, and although this rule was relaxed in the case of supply ships proceeding within the netted area of Suvla, it necessitated the transhipment of practically all reinforcements, stores and supplies—other than those for Suvla—into small ships in Mudros Harbour.

At Suvla and Anzac, disembarkation could only be effected by lighters and tugs, thus for all personnel and material there was at least one transhipment, and for the greater portion of both two transhipments.

Yet notwithstanding the difficulties which have been set forth above, the Army was well maintained in equipment and ammunition. It was well fed, it received its full supply of winter clothing at the beginning of December. The evacuation of the sick and wounded was carried out with the minimum of inconvenience, and the provision of hospital accommodation for them on the Dardanelles Line of Communication and elsewhere in the Mediterranean met all requirements.

The above is a very brief exposition of the extreme difficulties with which the officers responsible were confronted in dealing with a problem of peculiar complexity They were fortunate in being associated in their onerous and anxious task with a most competent and highly trained Naval Staff. The members of the two staffs worked throughout in perfect harmony and cordiality, and it was owing to their joint efforts that the requirements of the troops were so well responded to.

In accordance with the instructions received from your Lordship by telegram on 10th January 1916, I had the honour of telegraphing the names of the undermentioned officers who rendered most valuable and distinguished service in connection with the evacuation of Gallipoli, to be specially submitted for His Majesty's gracious consideration for promotion and reward, viz :—

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

PUBLIC DEBT.

Simla, the 15th June, 1916.

No. 449-A.—The attention of holders of Government promissory notes, who hold these as an investment of more or less permanence, is invited to the advantages afforded by the system of Inscribed Stock, i.e., the registration of holdings in the Book Debt Account maintained by the Public Debt Office. Under this system non-transferable stock certificates are issued to each holder in respect of the amount of debt registered in his name.

The essence of the system is that it gives absolute security. A stock certificate is transferable, not by endorsement, but only by a separate transfer deed executed by the holder or his duly constituted attorney and registered by him, or by such attorney, in the books of the Public Debt Office. A stock certificate is consequently of no value in the hands of a wrongful holder and the risk arising from the possession of negotiable securities is thereby avoided. In the event of the loss of a stock certificate by theft, fire, etc., a fresh certificate is issued on satisfactory evidence of loss.

There is also free convertibility between stock certificates and Government promissory notes. A holder of a stock certificate wishing to reconvert the whole or any portion of the sum it represents into promissory notes of the appropriate loan may always do so, vide clause 6 below.

A further advantage is that the holders of stock certificates are not required to present them in person or by agent when the interest becomes due, vide clauses 11 and 12 below.

Registration and issue of Stock Certificates.

2. Promissory notes of any current rupee loan of the Government of India may, at the option of a holder, be registered in Book Debt Account, non-transferable stock certificates being issued in lieu. A subscriber to a new loan may similarly elect to hold the amount allotted to him, or any part of it in the form of Book Debt.

3. A holder of Government promissory notes desiring to convert them into Book Debt should surrender them either at the Public Debt Office, Bank of Bengal, Bombay or Madras, or at the treasury at which interest is payable, together with a written application, forms of which are always available at the Banks of Bengal, Bombay and Madras, or may be obtained through any Treasury Officer. Each promissory note so tendered should be endorsed "Pay to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council." (For a specimen form of application, vide form No. 27, Civil Account Code.)

4. The holder will receive in exchange for the consolidated amount of such notes a stock certificate of the loan to which the notes appertain. If the notes belong to one or more of the 3½ per cent. loans, the holder may, subject to the general conditions governing transfers between these loans, obtain a stock certificate of any other 3½ per cent. loan into which transfer is admissible and into which he may desire to transfer his holding.

5. No fee will be charged on the issue, enfacement or renewal of a stock certificate.

Conversion into Promissory Notes.

6. > "Received in lieu of this stock certificate Government promissory notes of Rs .....each, together with a new stock certificate for the balance amounting to Rs....."

Promissory notes are, however, issued only in sums of Rs. 100 or in multiples of that sum, and a fee of four annas per cent is chargeable on each note issued in lieu of the certificate if the value of the note does not exceed Rs. 400 and of Re. 1 per note if the value exceeds that sum.

7. All sales or transfers of Government stock registered in the Book Debt Account must be made in even hundreds of rupees, and by transfer to be executed by the registered holder or his duly constituted attorney and registered in the books of the Public Debt Office, Bank of Bengal, Bombay or Madras. Such transfers are exempt from stamp duty. A blank form of deed of transfer is printed on the back of each stock certificate issued. The Public Debt Office may, in cases in which this is considered necessary, require the verification of the transferor's signature before a Treasury Officer or other responsible officer of Government.

In cases where only a portion of the stock is transferred, the purchaser will receive a certificate for an amount corresponding to the portion transferred, and a new certificate for the balance will be issued to the transferor.

Transfer to London.

9. Proprietors of stock certificates who may be desirous of transferring the whole or any portion of the amount to England can, on application, obtain from the Public Debt Office (Bank of Bengal, Bombay or Madras), a non-transferable certificate, on production of which at the Bank of England the amount of stock so advised will be registered in the name of the payee and a certificate issued for the same.

In respect of each such non-transferable certificate issued by the Public Debt Office a charge will be made at the rate of Re. 1 for every Rs. 5,000 or part of it.

Payment of Interest.

10. Warrants for the interest due on Registered Debt are issued by the Public Debt Office and may be made payable at the Government treasury, Calcutta, Bombay or Madras, or at any other Government treasury, or at the head post office at the headquarters of a Native State where there is no civil-treasury.

The warrants will be paid on presentation at the treasury or post office on which they are made payable.

But, if preferred, the warrant will be sent by post to the registered proprietor or his agent at any address desired. The proprietor should specify the treasury at which he wishes the interest to be made payable. The necessary information should be given in a written application and this will be acted upon until it is revoked.

Public Notice.

In the matter of the International Provident Assurance Company, Ld., Registered Office, 6, Commercial Buildings, Calcutta.

WHEREAS one M. N. Ghose styling himself as the General Manager of the above Company, from 92, Lower Circular Road, Calcutta, has falsely notified to the public that a resolution for voluntary winding up of the above Company has been duly passed and that the creditors of the Company empowered Mr. L. E. Pereira, a creditor of the Company, to apply to the Court for the appointment of a Liquidator to give effect to the above resolution, it has become incumbent upon the Directors of the said Company to notify and they do hereby notify to the public shareholders, contributories and creditors of the said Company that the said resolution for voluntary winding up, even if passed, is quite irregular and inoperative and that the said M. N. Ghose had no authority to call any meeting of the shareholders, nor had he any such instructions from the Directors to that effect, that many shareholders and Directors had no notice that any meeting of shareholders would be held to consider a proposal for voluntary winding up and that any such wholly irregular and illegal action of the said M. N. Ghose or of a few shareholders (only 3 in number) cannot bind the Company. The public, the shareholders and contributories are hereby informed that the Directors have been and are still carrying on the business of the Company at the registered office of the Company at No. 6, Commercial Buildings, Calcutta.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to make several amendments in the Calcutta Hackney-carriage Act, 1891 (Bengal Act II of 1891) with a view to securing a much-needed improvement in the hackney-carriage service. The amendments are explained in the subjoined notes.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1. Clause 1.—In order to give time to make by-laws under the new clauses which it is proposed to insert in section 53 of the Act, it is proposed to postpone the commencement of the operation of the Bill, when passed into law, until a date to be notified by the Local Government.

2. Clause 2.—(1) The definition of the "Commissioner of Police" introduced into the Act by this clause is necessary in the case of an extension of the Act beyond Calcutta under section 1 (3), read with section 61 (1).

(2) It also seems necessary to provide for the delegation, by the Chairman, of the powers and duties of the Registering Officer to any Municipal Officer whom the Chairman may appoint in that behalf.

3. Clause 3.—It is proposed that, instead of having specified in section 5 of the Act the classes into which hackney-carriages shall be divided, the classification should be left to by-laws to be made under section 53. Clause 3 of the Bill makes an alteration in section 5 of the Act, to give effect to this change.

4. Clause 4 introduces an amendment consequential upon the proposed Chapter IIA, relating to the identification of horses.

5. Clause 5 introduces a new section, 10A, directing the production of registered hackney-carriages (with their horses and harness) before the Registrar, for inspection, within a week after the expiration of six months from the date of each annual registration. Hackney-carriages often become unfit for public use long before the registration year has run out, but are usually repaired only just before registration has to be renewed. The new section will make it possible for the Registering Officer to exercise his power of suspension or cancellation under section 11 of the Act so as to enforce the making of repairs at the proper time.

6. Clause 6 introduces a new Chapter, IIA (proposed sections 15A to 15E), containing provisions to facilitate the identification of horses approved by the Registering Officer, so as to prevent the substitution of horses which have not been so approved. The mark of identification to be used will be prescribed by by-law made under section 53 of the Act. It will be attached or applied on the first registration of a carriage, and, if necessary, at each subsequent annual registration, a fee of one rupee being payable each time (proposed section 15A).

The proposed section 15B provides a penalty of Rs. 50 upon the owner of any hackney-carriage let or used or plying for hire with a horse not bearing the prescribed mark of identification, while the proposed section 15C provides for the renewal of a mark of identification which has been obliterated or lost, and the proposed section 15D prescribes a penalty for counterfeiting the prescribed mark of identification. These provisions are based on sections 17, 18, 20, 26 and 28 of the Act.

The proposed section 15E authorizes the removal of the mark of identification when horses become unfit for public use. It is based on section 11 of the Act.

7. Clauses 7 and 11.—Section 11 of the Act empowers the Registering Officer to suspend or cancel the registration of any hackney-carriage, or the license granted to the driver of any hackney-carriage, when the carriage or its horse or harness is unfit for public use. Sections 19 and 27 provide for the delivery to the Registering Officer of the plate of the carriage, and the driver's license and ticket, upon the expiration or other determination of the registration of the carriage or of the driver's license, but no clear provision is made in the Act for the delivery of the plate or ticket to the Registering Officer when the carriage-registration, or the driver's license, is merely suspended. If the Registering Officer had power to take possession of the plate and ticket in such a case, the carriage and the driver would be effectually prevented from plying for hire, and in this way compliance with the conditions upon which a carriage was registered or a driver's license was granted would be secured, and the object of the suspension would be attained. It is accordingly proposed to give the Registering Officer this power, by the new sections 19A and 27A introduced by clauses 7 and 11 of the Bill. As the Act at present stands, the only procedure open to the Registering Officer in these circumstances is to prosecute the offender, and this has proved to be ineffective, as carriages, although unfit, continue to ply for hire and the fine imposed is not usually of a deterrent nature.

8. Clause 8(1).—Section 21 of the Act empowers the Registering Officer to grant a driver's license to any applicant to whom it may seem proper to grant it, and section 53 (a) empowers the Commissioners in meeting to make by-laws with regard to the examination and qualification of drivers. There is, however, reason to believe that, notwithstanding the existence of these provisions, licenses have been granted to unsuitable persons. It has therefore been suggested that, while the Act is being amended, the opportunity might be taken to emphasize three prominent cases in which licenses should be refused, namely, where applicants either do not bear a good character, or are incompetent as drivers, or have an insufficient knowledge of localities. It has also been suggested that the minimum age-limit for drivers should be raised from 16 to 18 years.

9. Clause 8(3).—It is also proposed to add to section 21 (2) a clause directing the inclusion, in each driver's license, of a summary of the more important statutory provisions and by-laws affecting drivers of hackney-carriages.

10. Clause 8(4).—Sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 21 require every driver to take out a fresh license every year, on payment of a fee of Rs. 2. It is proposed to alter these sub-sections so as to require that all licenses shall, irrespective of the date of issue, expire on the one date, namely, the 30th June. This change will, it is considered, facilitate the thorough and systematic examination of drivers. It is further proposed that licenses shall be renewable, at the discretion of the Registering Officer, subject to the terms of the original grant. It is further provided that the fee for a license should be Rs. 2 whether the license is an original one or one that is being renewed, except that, in order to avoid hardship in the case of those drivers who may be registered late in the year, in the case of those licenses which have been in force for less than six months before the 30th June, the date of their expiry, the fee to be realized should be only half that amount.

11. Clause 9 amplifies section 23 so as to penalise owners of hackney-carriages who allow their carriages to be driven for hire by persons whose licenses have expired or been cancelled or suspended.

12. Clause 10 inserts in section 27 (2) of the Act four words which would seem to have been dropped out by accident.

13. Clause 11.—See paragraph 7, ante.

14. Clause 12.—Section 29 (2) of the Act authorizes Magistrates to endorse convictions on drivers' licenses. It is proposed to revise that section so as to require Magistrates to endorse convictions, instead of merely authorizing them to do so, and so as to require Magistrates to endorse also any warning or reprimand that they may administer to drivers.

15. Clause 13.—The Registering Officer is empowered by section 11 of the Act to suspend or cancel a driver's license when his carriage, horse or harness is unfit for public use. Section 30 also authorizes the suspension or cancellation of his license when a driver is convicted, before a Magistrate, of any offence. These provisions, however, do not go far enough, for drivers may be shown to be unfit for their work independently of the condition of their carriages, horses or harness, and in spite of the fact that no prosecution has been instituted against them. It is therefore proposed to enact a new section, 30A, empowering the Registering Officer to require any driver to appear before him, and, if he finds that the driver is not a fit person to drive a hackney-carriage, to suspend or cancel his license.

16. Clauses 14 and 17 introduce into sections 33 and 44 of the Act, respectively, changes which are consequential upon the amendment described in paragraph 23 (3), post.

17. Clause 15.—Section 38 of the Act empowers the Magistrate to summon the owner of a hackney-carriage when a complaint is made that the driver has committed an offence against the Act. There seems no reason why this section should not be extended to the case of offences against by-laws made under section 53 of the Act, and clause 15 of the Bill introduces an amendment to this effect.

18. Clause 16 introduces amendments consequential upon the adoption of the proposed new Chapter IIA, as to the identification of horses.

19. Clauses 18 to 20 amend sections of the Act relating to palanquins in the same way in which it is proposed to amend certain sections relating to hackney-carriages, as explained in paragraphs 10, 16, ante, and 20, 23(1), 23(3), post.

20. Clause 21 amends section 53 of the Act by giving power to make by-laws as to the identification of horses to be used in any hackney-carriage, the division of hackney-carriages into classes, the fees to be paid for the registration, and the fares to be paid for the hire of hackney-carriages (see paragraphs 3, ante and 23(1) and 23(3), post). A clause is also added to give power to make by-laws for preventing the placing of advertisements on or in hackney-carriages or palanquins. It is considered advisable to take advantage of the present opportunity to prevent these vehicles being used as advertising media.

21. Clause 22 reduces the period during which property left in hackney-carriages and palanquins should be kept with the Commissioner of Police, from one year to six months.

22. (1) Clause 23(1) supplies an obvious omission in section 61 (1) of the Act by inserting the name of the Commissioner of Police, since it is necessary that his functions under the Act may be delegated when the Act is extended beyond Calcutta.

(2) Clause 23(2) introduces an amendment consequential upon the suggested clause (a) in the proposed new proviso to section 21(1)—see clause 8 of the Bill.

23. (1) Clause 24—Repeal of section 10.—It is proposed that fees for the registration of carriages should be prescribed by by-law to be made under section 53 of the Act, and it is accordingly proposed to repeal section 10 of the Act, by which such fees are at present fixed.

(2) Clause 24—Partial repeal of section 14.—The reference to fees in section 14 of the Act is repealed, an addition being made by clause 21 of the Bill, to section 53 of the Act, to admit of fees, for alterations in register or license, being prescribed by by-law.

(3) Clause 24—Repeal of sections 31 and 50 and the first and second Schedules.—The fares to be charged for the hire of hackney-carriages and palanquins are prescribed in sections 31 and 50 of, and the first and second Schedules to, the Act. It is considered better to leave such fares to be prescribed by by-laws to be made under section 53 of the Act, since fares in mufassal towns (in many of which the Act is already in force), where living is cheap, should not be so high as in Calcutta. It is accordingly proposed to repeal sections 31 and 50 of, and the first and second Schedules to, the Act, and to give express power in section 53 to make by-laws for fixing fares.

(4) Clause 24—Partial repeal of section 46.—The repeal, in section 46 of the Act, of the reference to the registration fee and the repeal of section 50 of the Act, which relates to fares to be charged for the hire of palanquins, are consequent on the proposal to regulate the payment of these fees and fares by by-laws, as in the case of hackney-carriages.

British Government Notification concerning the exercise by British warships of the right of visit and search of merchant vessels.

No. 175 (second publication).—The following instructions relative to the above, issued by the Coast Inspector, Shanghai, in Notice to Mariners (No. 618 of 1916), are republished :—

Under instructions from the Chinese Government the following extract from a communication from the British Government to the Chinese Government, dealing with the procedure of British warships in exercising the right of visit and search of merchant vessels, is made public :—

When it is the intention of the commander of a warship to send an officer on board a merchant ship by day the following procedure will be adopted. A large red pennant will be hoisted by the warship exercising the right of visit and search. The hoisting of this pennant will be accompanied by the firing of a rocket. This will signify that the merchant ship is to close the boat lowered by the warship whether the warship remains near the boat or not. The procedure to be followed by night will be the same as that by day except that two red Verys lights will be the signal for the merchant ship to close the boat, which, where possible, will be illuminated by a searchlight. When the weather precludes boarding, the ship of war will fire two green Verys lights, which will be the signal for the merchant ship to lie-to till daylight.

The new arrangements will come into force immediately and will not be confined to any particular geographical area. Pending the lapse of a reasonable time for the new signals to become generally known, His Majesty's ships will communicate with merchant ships in the usual code in cases where it is found that the meaning of the signals is not understood.

The communication further states that any orders or signals to a merchant vessel should, for stated reasons of an urgent character, be implicity and instantly obeyed; and that disregard of such orders will necessarily excite suspicion and may lead to the vessel being fired on.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR MAY 1916.

I. Character of the season.—The rainfall was largely in defect throughout the province excepting in Jalpaiguri and Cooch Behar. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—The sowings of jute and autumn paddy were nearly over in the eastern districts, but in the western districts the operations were greatly hampered owing to the insufficiency of rainfall. Lands were also being ploughed for the next winter rice crop.

III. State of standing crops.—The growth of the young paddy and jute crops was to a certain extent retarded owing to the dry weather prevailing during the month.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—So far the prospects of aus paddy and jute are on the whole fair.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Insects were reported to have caused some damage to aus paddy in parts of the Dacca and Noakhali districts.

VI. Condition of agricultural stocks.—The condition of agricultural stock was fair. The number of districts from which cattle-disease was reported during the month varied from seven to twelve.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Scarcity of fodder was felt in parts of the Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore districts.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review the prices of common rice rose in nine districts, fell in five and remained stationary in the rest. It varied from six seers and fourteen chittacks per rupee at Comilla to nine seers eight chittacks at Jalpaiguri.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—In the Bankura district the state of affairs in affected areas generally remained unchanged. The people were resorting to relief works freely. The number of men attending relief works increased during the month, as agricultural work was hindered owing to the scanty rainfall.

In the Tippera district drought somewhat affected the standing crops. The number of men on relief works was increasing owing to the cessation of agricultural employment on the completion of weeding and sowing operations. Water scarcity was felt in parts of the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Burdwan, Bankura and Midnapore.

REPORT ON FAMINE AND SCARCITY IN THE DISTRICTS OF BANKURA AND TIPPERA FOR THE WEEK ENDING THE 10TH JUNE 1916.

IN the Bankura district the state of affairs in affected areas is generally unchanged. But conditions are improving. Sowings have commenced owing to rains. Condition of people on works is generally good. The relief measures are adequate. People are freely resorting to the relief works. Loans are being freely advanced. Fodder is still scarce. Private charitable funds are giving relief. Prices are stationary. The price of rice is 8 seers per rupee. The number of persons on relief works was 17,754, and in receipt of gratuitous relief 25,628—total 43,382. The decrease in the number of persons on relief works was due to commencement of agricultural operations. Seven thousand seven hundred and twenty-four persons were relieved on private works.

In the Tippera district the rainfall during the week has improved the prospects of standing crops. The distress is likely to continue till the harvesting of aus paddy. The relief measures are adequate. Public health is good. There was no wandering or emaciation. Private charitable funds are giving assistance. The price of rice is 7 seers per rupee. The number of persons on test works was 2,991, and in receipt of gratuitous relief 5,012—total 8,002.

The state and prospect of the autumn crops are on the whole fairly satisfactory in the eastern districts but are less so in the western districts. Cattle-disease is reported from five districts. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·8 per cent., as compared with that of the previous week. Scarcity is reported from parts of the Chittagong Hill Tracts. CALCUTTA, the 20th June 1916.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

CALCUTTA TRADE FLUCTUATIONS.

THE following tables are intended to show the trade of the Calcutta Block* in certain selected articles during the months of April 1915 to March 1916 by all routes, i.e., by rail, river, canal, road and sea. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

Imports.

The principal articles imported into Calcutta by rail, river, canal, road and sea (coastwise) during April 1915 to March 1916, as against the corresponding months of 1914-15, show (in round numbers) an increase of—

21 per cent. in paddy (5,404,000 maunds as against 4,462,000 maunds),
28 per cent. in jute raw (6,209,000 bales as against 4,839,000 bales),
52 per cent. in wheat (6,549,000 maunds as against 4,319,000 maunds),
24 per cent. in gunny-bags (348 million bags as against 281 millions),
48 per cent. in Indian piece-goods † (Rs. 2,24,43,000 as against Rs. 1,51,17,000),
74 per cent. in indigo (22,000 maunds as against 12,000 maunds)

and a decrease of—

12 per cent. in rice (19,282,000 maunds as against 21,887,000 maunds),
25 per cent. in coal and coke (107,476,000 maunds as against 142,576,000 maunds).

Shipments from Burma of paddy rose from 2,602,000 maunds in the twelve months ending March 1915 to 2,910,000 maunds in the corresponding twelve months of 1915-16. Exports of jute, especially from Rangpur, Dacca, Mymensingh, Faridpur and Bihar and Orissa increased during the same periods from 2,834,000 bales to 3,467,000 bales; of wheat from the United Provinces increased from 1,796,000 maunds to 4,051,000 maunds; of gunny-bags from Hooghly and the 24-Parganas from 276 million bags to 341 millions; and of Indian piece-goods from Bombay from Rs. 93,98,000 to Rs. 1,64,32,000.

Shipments of rice from Burma decreased from 13,961,000 maunds in 1914-15 to 11,965,000 maunds in 1915-16; of coal and coke from the coal fields in the district of Burdwan decreased from 63,743,000 to 53,232,000 maunds, and from Bihar and Orissa from 78,314,000 maunds to 54,099,000 maunds.

Owing to smaller shipments mainly from Bombay during the year under report the imports by sea (foreign and coastwise) into Calcutta of Indian cotton piece-goods decreased by 78 per cent. (Rs. 4,33,920 in 1915-16 as against Rs. 19,43,112 last year).

Exports.

The exports by sea (foreign and coastwise) from Calcutta of rice show a fall of 54 per cent. on account of smaller shipments principally to foreign countries other than the United Kingdom (1,894,000 maunds in the twelve months of April 1915 to March 1916 as against 4,271,000 maunds in the corresponding months of 1914-15), and the decrease of 34 per cent. in the exports of coal and coke is due chiefly to smaller shipments to Burma, Bombay and Madras (21,160,000 maunds as against 41,819,000 maunds last year). Owing to larger shipments to the United Kingdom (264,000 maunds as against 5,444 maunds last year) exports of wheat rose by 234 per cent. The exports of raw jute to the United Kingdom increased from 1,223,000 bales last year to 1,712,000 bales. Shipments of gunny bags to foreign countries other than the United Kingdom increased by about 156 million bags, and those to the United Kingdom, increased from 81 million bags in 1914-15 to 388 million bags in 1915-16.

---

* Calcutta Block consists of the town of Calcutta with Howrah and Kidderpore Docks.
† Excluding imports coastwise

Exports by rail, river, canal, road and sea (coastwise) increased in the case of kerosene-oil (7,404,000 as against 7,260,000 maunds last year and decreased in the case of foreign cotton twist and yarn by 7 per cent. (2,35,000 maunds as against 252,000 maunds), and foreign cotton piece-goods by 1 per cent. (Rs. 18,55,56,000 as against Rs. 18,80,13,000).

The statistics for April 1915 to March 1916, as also for the corresponding months of 1914-15, are summarised in Table I:—

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which renders it necessary to provide further power to prohibit or restrict the import and export of goods to and from British India;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, 1915, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance :— 5 & 6 Geo. V. c. 61.

ORDINANCE No. IV OF 1916.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Import and Export of Goods Ordinance, 1916.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

Definitions.

2. In this Ordinance—

"export" means the taking by sea or land out of British India;

"import" means the bringing by sea or land into British India.

Power to prohibit or restrict import or export of goods from or to any country or place, or any person or class of persons.

3. The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, prohibit or restrict in any way he may specify in such notification, the import or export of all or any goods or any class of goods from or to any country or place, or from or to any person or class of persons.

Application of the provisions of the Sea Customs Act, 1878.

4. Where, by a notification issued under section 3, the import or export of any goods is prohibited or restricted, such goods shall be deemed to be goods of which the import or export has been prohibited or restricted under section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, and the provisions of the said Act shall have effect accordingly: VIII of 1878.

Provided that, in any proceedings for the adjudication of confiscation of any goods to which the provisions of any notification under this Ordinance is alleged to apply, the goods shall be deemed to be goods of which the import or export has been so prohibited or restricted, as the case may be, unless the contrary is proved.

5. (1) Where any bond has been executed for the due performance of any condition imposed in the exercise or by virtue of the power of restriction conferred by section 3, the officer in whose favour the bond has been executed or his successor in office may, if he is satisfied that such bond has been forfeited, call upon the person bound thereby to pay the penalty to show cause why it should not be paid by him.

(2) If, in the opinion of such officer, sufficient cause is not shown and the penalty is not paid, he may, in addition to all other legal remedies, proceed to recover the same as if it were an arrear of land-revenue, and shall, for that purpose, have all the powers conferred upon the Collector by any enactment relating to land-revenue for the time being in force in any part of the province in which the bond was executed.

Certain notifications under the Sea Customs Act, 1878, to be deemed to be issued under this Ordinance.

British Government Notification concerning the exercise by British warships of the right of visit and search of merchant vessels.

No. 175 (third publication).—The following instructions relative to the above, issued by the Coast Inspector, Shanghai, in Notice to Mariners (No. 618 of 1916), are republished :—

Under instructions from the Chinese Government the following extract from a communication from the British Government to the Chinese Government, dealing with the procedure of British warships in exercising the right of visit and search of merchant vessels, is made public :—

When it is the intention of the commander of a warship to send an officer on board a merchant ship by day the following procedure will be adopted. A large red pennant will be hoisted by the warship exercising the right of visit and search. The hoisting of this pennant will be accompanied by the firing of a rocket. This will signify that the merchant ship is to close the boat lowered by the warship whether the warship remains near the boat or not. The procedure to be followed by night will be the same as that by day except that two red Verys lights will be the signal for the merchant ship to close the boat, which, where possible, will be illuminated by a searchlight. When the weather precludes boarding, the ship of war will fire two green Verys lights, which will be the signal for the merchant ship to lie-to till daylight.

The new arrangements will come into force immediately and will not be confined to any particular geographical area. Pending the lapse of a reasonable time for the new signals to become generally known, His Majesty's ships will communicate with merchant ships in the usual code in cases where it is found that the meaning of the signals is not understood.

The communication further states that any orders or signals to a merchant vessel should, for stated reasons of an urgent character, be implicity and instantly obeyed; and that disregard of such orders will necessarily excite suspicion and may lead to the vessel being fired on.

REPORT ON FAMINE AND SCARCITY IN THE DISTRICTS OF BANKURA AND TIPPERA FOR THE WEEK ENDING 17TH JUNE 1916.

IN the Bankura district the state of affairs in the affected areas is generally unchanged. Rainfall was general throughout the district. Cultivation of winter and autumn paddy continues. The condition of people on relief-works is generally good. The relief measures are adequate. Loans are being freely advanced. Private charitable funds are giving relief. Prices are stationary. The price of rice is 8 seers per rupee. The number of persons on relief-works was 7,254, and in receipt of gratuitous relief 24,864—total 32,118. Three thousand three hundred and sixty-nine persons were relieved on private works. The decrease in the number of persons on relief-works was due to rain.

In the Tippera district the rainfall during the week has improved the prospects of standing crops, but more rain is wanted for autumn rice crop. The relief measures are adequate. Public health is good. The price of rice is 7 seers per rupee. The number of persons on test-works was 3,059, and in receipt of gratuitous relief 5,462—total 8,521.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 26th June 1916.

Summary.—During the week under report excessive rain fell in some of the Northern and Eastern Bengal districts; the fall was, however, normal in the rest of the province. Weeding of autumn paddy and jute continues. Ploughings for winter rice and sowings of rice seed-beds are proceeding briskly. Transplanting has also commenced in places. The harvesting of jute is reported to have commenced in one or two districts of Eastern Bengal. Standing crops are fairly satisfactory except jute in the Western districts where the sowings have been generally late. Cattle-disease is reported from seven districts. The average price of common rice for the province has had a slight tendency to rise as compared with that of the previous week.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 27th June 1916.

AN

TO

Prohibit or control trading by hostile foreigners and hostile firms and for other purposes.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to take powers further to prohibit or control trading by hostile foreigners and hostile firms and for other purposes;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 72 of the Government of India Act, 1915, the Governor General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:— 5 & 6 Geo., Ch. 61.

ORDINANCE No. V OF 1916.

Short title. 1. This Ordinance may be called the Enemy Trading Ordinance, 1916.

Definitions. 2. In this Ordinance—

"Company" means any company, firm or association, or body of individuals, whether incorporated or not;

"Hostile foreigner" means a subject of a State for the time being at war with His Majesty, and includes any company constituted according to the laws of such State, and the ruler or Government of any such State; and

"Hostile firm" means any of the following, namely:—

(a) any hostile foreigner who has, or at any date subsequent to the 3rd day of August, 1914, had, an office, agency or place of business in British India;

(b) any company of which any member or officer is a hostile foreigner, or of which a hostile foreigner was a member or officer on the 3rd day of August, 1914, and which has or has had since that date an office, agency or place of business in British India;

(c) any person or company who or which has, at any time since the 3rd day of August, 1914, carried on business in British India, and whose business is, or was, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, either by reason of its nature or of the persons who carry or carried it on, or for any other cause whatsoever, carried on either under the control whether direct or indirect of any hostile foreigner, or carried on wholly or mainly for the benefit of hostile foreigners generally, or any class of hostile foreigners or any individual hostile foreigner.

Power to appoint Inspectors.

3. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, appoint Inspectors for the purpose of determining whether any business is or was carried on by a hostile firm within the meaning of this Ordinance.

(2) The Inspector may summon before him any person whom he believes to be capable of giving information concerning the trade, dealings, affairs or property of such business, and of the antecedents and nationality of those by whom it is or was carried on or controlled.

(3) The Inspector may examine such person on oath concerning the same, and may reduce his answers to writing, and require him to sign them.

(4) The Inspector may require such person to produce any documents in his custody or power in any way relating to such business or to the persons by whom it is or was carried on or controlled.

(5) If any person so summoned refuses to come before the Inspector at the time appointed, the Inspector may cause him to be apprehended and brought before him for examination.

(6) If any person refuses to answer any question or to produce any document, which under this section the Inspector is empowered to ask or require production of, such person shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Power to prohibit or restrict or wind up hostile firms

4. (1) The Governor General in Council may make an order either—

(a) prohibiting any hostile firm from carrying on business except for the purposes and subject to the conditions, if any, specified in the order; or

(b) requiring the business of such firm to be wound up; and may in any case, where he has made an order prohibiting or limiting the carrying on of the business, at any time, if he thinks it expedient, substitute for that order an order requiring the business to be wound up.

(2) Every order made under sub-section (1) shall be published by notification in the Gazette of India.

(3) If any person contravenes the provisions of any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to one year, and shall also be liable to fine.

(4) An order made under this section shall continue in force, notwithstanding the termination of the present war, until determined by order of the Governor General in Council.

Winding up order.

5. (1) Where the Governor General in Council makes an order under this Ordinance requiring a business to be wound up, the order shall, on notification in the Gazette of India, have effect as if it were a winding up order made by a Court under the Indian Companies Act, 1913, and the provisions of that Act relating to winding up by the Court and the rules made thereunder subject to such exceptions, restrictions, extensions, modifications and adaptations as the Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, prescribe, or such other rules as may be prescribed by him, shall apply to the winding up of the business:

Provided that, for the purposes of any winding up order under this Ordinance, all powers exerciseable by the Court under the said Act shall be exerciseable by the Governor General in Council or by such other authority as he may appoint either generally or specially in that behalf:

Provided also that the assets of the business and any money resulting from the realization of any part thereof shall be dealt with in accordance with such rules as the Governor General in Council may make in that behalf.

(2) Where an order has been made under this Ordinance directing the winding up of the business of a hostile firm, the hostile firm shall not, nor shall any other person, commence or initiate, whilst that order remains in force, any other proceedings of a like nature or calculated in any way to interfere with the carrying out of such order.

Contracts or transfers against the public interest.

6. Where it appears to the Governor General in Council that a contract entered into before or during the war, or a transfer of property, moveable or immoveable, made during the war, with or by a hostile foreigner or a hostile firm is injurious to the public interest, or was made with the object of evading any provision of the law, the Governor General in Council may by order cancel or determine such contract, either unconditionally or upon such conditions as he thinks fit, or declare such transfer to be void either in whole or in part, or may impose such conditions on the transferee as he thinks fit.

Power of the Governor General in Council to vest property in Custodian under the Enemy Trading Act, 1915.

7. (1) The Governor General in Council in any case where it appears to him to be expedient to do so may by order vested in any Custodian appointed under the Enemy Trading Act, 1915, any property, moveble or immoveable, belonging to or managed or held whether in trust or otherwise, for, or on behalf of, a hostile foreigner, a hostile firm, or any person or company residing in, or carrying on business in the dominions of, a State at war with His Majesty, or the right to transfer that property, and may by any such order or any subsequent order confer on the Custodian such powers of selling, managing and otherwise dealing with the property as to the Governor General in Council may seem proper.

(2) A vesting order under this section shall, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, be sufficient to vest in the Custodian any property or the right to transfer any property as provided by the order without the necessity of any further document.

(3) Where, in the exercise of the powers conferred on him by the Governor General in Council, the Custodian proposes to sell any shares or stock forming part of the capital of any company or any securities issued by the company in respect of which a vesting order under this Ordinance has been made, the company may, with the consent of the Governor General in Council, purchase the shares, stock or securities, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any law or in any regulation of the company, and any shares, stock or securities so purchased may, from time to time, be re-issued by the company.

(4) The transfer by the Custodian of any property shall be conclusive evidence in favour of the transferee and of the Custodian that the requirements of this section have been complied with.

(5) All property vested in the Custodian under this section and the proceeds of the sale of, or money arising from, any such property, shall be dealt with by him in accordance with such directions as he may receive from the Governor General in Council; and no such property or money shall be liable to be attached or otherwise taken in execution.

Validity of vesting orders.

8. Where a vesting order has been made under this Ordinance as respects any property belonging to, or held or managed for, or on behalf of, a person who appeared to the Governor General in Council to be a person to whom the provisions of section 7 were applicable, the order shall not, nor shall any proceedings thereunder or in consequence thereof, be invalidated or affected by reason only of such person having, prior to the date of the order, died or ceased to be a person to whom the said provisions were applicable, or subsequently dying or ceasing to be such a person or by reason of its being subsequently ascertained that he was not such a person, as the case may be.

Registration of transfer without production of certificates, etc.

9. Where the Custodian executes a transfer of any shares, stock or securities which he is empowered to transfer by a vesting order made under this Ordinance, the company in whose books the shares, stock or securities are registered shall, upon the receipt of the transfer so executed by the Custodian, and upon being required by him so to do, register the shares, stock or securities in the name of the Custodian or other transferee, notwithstanding any regulation or stipulation of the company, and notwithstanding that the Custodian is not in possession of the certificate, scrip or other document of title relating to the shares, stock or securities transferred; but such registration shall be without prejudice to any lien or charge in favour of the company or to any other lien or charge of which the Custodian has express notice.

Power to make rules.

10. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules for all or any of the following purposes, namely :—

(a) providing for the distribution or disposal of any assets, or any money resulting from the realization of any part thereof, of any business in respect of which a winding up order has been made under this Ordinance;

(b) prescribing that hostile foreigners and hostile firms or any class of hostile foreigners or hostile firms shall, when required by the Custodian, furnish to him such particulars as he may require of all or any moveable or immoveable property in their possession, or under their control whether direct or indirect;

(c) requiring persons in British India to furnish to the Custodian such particulars as he may require of all or any class of debts or other property due by them to any person to whom the provisions of section 7 are or may be applicable;

(d) prescribing the remuneration payable to the Custodian in respect of his duties under this Ordinance, the fund from which it shall be paid, and the method of collecting the same; and

(e) generally for carrying out the purposes of this Ordinance.

(2) In making any rule under this section, the Governor General in Council may direct that a breach of it shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to a term not exceeding six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Certain licenses under the Hostile Foreigners (Trading) Order to be deemed to be orders issued under section 4(1)(a).

11. Every license for the time being in force granted under the Hostile Foreigners (Trading) Order permitting the licensee to trade or carry on business subject to conditions or restrictions shall be deemed to be an order made under section 4 (1) (a) of this Ordinance, and this Ordinance shall have effect accordingly.

Power to deal with non-trading companies.

12. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that the powers conferred by section 7 in regard to the property, moveable or immovable, of the persons referred to therein shall extend to the property, moveable or immoveable, in British India, of any company specified in such notification of which any member is a hostile foreigner or of which a hostile foreigner was a member or officer on the 3rd day of August, 1914, notwithstanding that such company is not a company trading in British India.

(2) On the publication of a notification under sub-section (1), the company shall be deemed to be a person referred to in section 7 of this Ordinance, and this Ordinance shall have effect accordingly.

Validation of past action

13. Any act done after the 3rd day of August, 1914 by, or under the orders of, any officer of Government in respect of the property, moveable or immoveable, of any hostile foreigner or hostile firm which, if this Ordinance had been in force, could have been validly done in the exercise of the powers conferred thereby, or which could have been conferred thereunder, is hereby validated.
